

Attlee's Cheap Attack Calls For Apology By London, Says McCarthy

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today Britain should apologize for what he termed a "cheap" attack by former Prime Minister Attlee on President Eisenhower and the American people.

Conservative party members of the British Parliament, McCarthy said, sat silently last Tuesday while Attlee made "one of the most insulting speeches ever made in the legislative body of a recipient nation against an ally which has been pouring out her economic life blood for practically every other nation on earth."

Explanation Due
In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, McCarthy declared: "The American people are entitled to an apology for this cheap, uncalled for, fantastic attack upon the President and people of the United States."

"We are entitled to an explanation as to whether the majority party in Britain agrees with Mr. Attlee, who was rejected by the British people."

One by one McCarthy took up Attlee's reported declarations that "there are elements in the United States that do not want a truce in Korea"; that the presence of Eisenhower or any American might "hinder" direct peace talks with the Russians; that "the American Constitution was framed for an isolationist state," and that "the Americans do not wish to have anything to do with Europe."

McCarthy's prepared text contained no mention of Attlee's statement that "one wonders" whether Eisenhower or McCarthy wields the greater power in U. S. foreign policy.

Communists Praised
"What shocked me," McCarthy said, "was that no member of the majority party arose to contest what he had said."

"I shall distribute to whatever senators who desire it," McCarthy said, "a copy of a picture of Attlee reviewing Communist troops in Spain in 1937 with Communist Gen. Miaja and Commissar Anton, a leader of the Communist party in Spain, all three giving the Communist clenched-fist salute."

"But lest someone think Attlee's Communist salute was merely an act of courtesy on his part, I have here a letter in Attlee's own handwriting. . . . He first praises in glowing terms the Communist brigade and extolls its devotion to the 'cause of freedom and social justice.'"

"And listen to this closing paragraph: 'I shall try to tell our comrades at home of what I have seen.' . . ."

"'Comrade' is a Communist term meaning fellow Communist."

Tidelands Bill Ready For O. K. Of Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twice-vetoed legislation to give states title to oil-rich, submerged offshore lands was ready today for the promised signature of President Eisenhower.

It cleared its final congressional hurdle yesterday when the House, by roll-call vote of 278 to 116, accepted Senate amendments to an original House measure. That sent it to the White House, where popularly called "tidelands bills" have gone before.

In 1948 President Truman vetoed a similar measure, as he did again in 1951.

Court Challenge Promised

The five-year issue figured prominently in the 1952 presidential campaign, during which Eisenhower promised to support the coastal states' claim to the offshore land and its rich mineral resources.

Final House action found 184 Republicans and 94 Democrats supporting the bill. Opposing it were 98 Democrats, 17 Republicans and 1 Independent.

Opponents have served notice the measure's validity will be challenged in court. The Supreme Court has held in three suits that the federal government has "paramount rights" over the submerged lands off the coasts of Texas, California and Louisiana, although it has not passed specifically on the question of title to the area.

The Senate had deleted from the House bill a section in which federal control over the continental shelf was asserted out beyond the states' seaward boundaries.

Boundary at 3 Miles
By accepting the Senate amendments, the House was able to send the bill directly to the White House and thus avoid possible further delay in the Senate.

Just before disposing of the states' ownership bill yesterday, the House voted 309-91 to pass a separate measure which would assert federal control over the outer continental shelf and authorize development of the territory. This was the intent of the section which the Senate struck from the states' ownership bill.

The measure sent to the White House would fix state coastal boundaries at three miles generally and 10½ miles for the Texas and Florida Gulf coasts.

Tornado Death Tally In Waco Over 100 Mark

WACO, Tex. (AP)—The known death tally continued to mount today as searchers dug deep into the tornado ruins in downtown Waco. Early today the 104th body was free from the debris.

Meanwhile, city officials studied these grim figures: damages estimated at 50 million dollars; 196 business and manufacturing buildings destroyed; 1,836 other buildings and homes damaged or destroyed.

Wet and Cold
The report was made last night at a disaster relief committee meeting. The figures were compiled by an Army Engineers survey team sent here from Dallas.

In San Angelo, Tex., where another tornado struck shortly before the Waco storm, the toll stood at 10 dead—making a total of 114 tornado dead in Texas.

The weather remained wet and cold. Two hours of sunlight yesterday were all Waco had seen since the twister smashed the heart of the business district Monday.

As the search became better organized state highway patrolmen took over the responsibility for policing the ruined section. They issued special passes and if you didn't have one you couldn't get into the area.

Streets Cleared
Workers reported at least 15 bodies had been dug from the ruins of the R. T. Dennis Furniture Store. Survivors had estimated 30 or more persons were buried in the crumbled wreckage of what had been a five-story building.

The 100th body was that of John William Coates, who was talking on the telephone to his pretty red-haired wife, about 24, when the twister pounced. He began to describe the terrifying change in the weather. Then he cried: "Honey, the building's falling in!"

The phone went dead. Much of the wreckage in the main business district had been cleared away. The search was moving into buildings on the town square. This section was hit lighter than the main district.

Six Milwaukee
Breweries Made
Idle By Strike

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A strike began today at Milwaukee's six large breweries.

Picket lines were established at the Pabst, Miller, Blatz, Schlitz, Gettelman and Independent breweries by Local 9 of the CIO United Brewery Workers, which represents 7,500 workers.

Negotiations continued on the union's demand for a reduction in the work week from 40 to 35 hours with no loss in pay plus a 25 cents hourly wage boost.

Rift With Britain
Not Serious One,
Eisenhower Thinks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he does not think the rift between Britain and America over dealings with Russia and policy in Korea is as wide as it might appear.

He commented at a news conference on remarks by Prime Minister Churchill and Clement Attlee, Labor Party leader, in House of Commons debate, with special reference to Attlee's assertion that some elements in America oppose a Korean peace.

He emphasized that point by permitting direct quotation of this portion of what he said: "I have met no one in America who does not want peace."

Moscow Agitates U. S.-British Tiff

LONDON (AP)—The U. S. congressional uproar over former Prime Minister Clement Attlee's assertion that some elements in America oppose a Korean peace was greeted with alarm or bitterness in much of the British press today.

Moscow radio, meanwhile, poured oil on the flames with a lengthy review of the "ever-growing dissatisfaction with various aspects of United States policy" in the British House of Commons.

Attlee, leader of the opposition Labor party, made his assertion Tuesday during a Commons foreign policy debate that won the biggest play in Soviet newspapers given a British parliamentary discussion in many years.

Moscow's two principal newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, devoted nearly a page to summaries and quotations from the speeches by Attlee, Prime Minister Churchill and other British leaders. Almost half a page was devoted to Churchill's speech in which he called for a top-level meeting of the principal powers to settle world issues.

Egypt Squeezes 80,000 British

By EDWARD POLLAK

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt was reported today trying to throw an economic noose around the 80,000 British soldiers she wants to push out of the bitterly disputed Suez Canal zone.

Interior Ministry sources said Premier Mohamed Naguib's Cabinet has prohibited commercial transactions with British forces in the Suez except by "special approval by the supply ministry."

The order, these sources said, applies to foodstuffs, alcoholic beverages, building materials and other raw materials. Banning of Egyptian sales of all these would force the British to supply their vast establishment entirely from outside Egypt.

Egyptian political circles viewed the Cabinet's new move as the start of a growing economic boycott of British forces in the canal zone. It followed a hot exchange of charges between Britain and Egypt in which each accused the other of a series of shooting attacks in the canal zone since April 1.

Bitter Charges Hurled At Peace Session In Korea

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR
PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists today said no to the latest Allied plan for exchanging war prisoners and neither side gave any indication of yielding on that last major barrier to an armistice in Korea.

Nearly, the Reds tore down tents used for exchanging sick and wounded war prisoners, indicating they're through trading. The United Nations center still stands.

POWs Used Illegally

At today's truce meeting, the Reds called the Allied counterproposal to their eight-point May 7 offer "absolutely unacceptable" and said it "intends to overthrow the basis of negotiations of both sides."

The chief Allied negotiator, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., answered with charges that the Reds illegally took Allied prisoners across the Yalu River into Manchuria and used others for labor troops.

He charged the Reds with reducing warfare to a "new viciousness" by impressing some 50,000 captives into the Communist armed forces, rather than releasing them at the front as the Reds have maintained.

Opinions Far Apart

After the meeting, he told newsmen: "There still is a complete difference of opinion on the major points."

The Allied counteroffer would free 34,000 North Korean prisoners who refuse repatriation and, under certain conditions, would put 14,500 Chinese in temporary custody of a five-nation commission made up of Sweden, Switzerland, India, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

If two months of Red "explanations" fail to sway the Chinese the Allies would release them outright. The Red plan would leave

New Fair Board Proposal Killed

LANSING (AP)—With no debate, the House stuck a knife in Senator Donald W. Gilbert (R-Saginaw) yesterday by killing his bill to create a new State Fair board and turn over to it year around control of the State Fairgrounds.

The House vote on the Senate-approved measure was 46-31.

In private, House members said that most of the opposition reflected personal animosity toward Gilbert who has harpooned many representatives' bills and otherwise has incurred the enmity of a large segment of the House.

The State Fair is now run by the State Fair Board of Managers. The grounds are operated by the State Agriculture Commission except during the actual running of the fair. This dual control has been widely criticized.

After once passing a bill to permit banks to open on legal holidays, the House recalled it and killed it on a 42-36 vote. Since last week's passage of the measure, heavy pressure against it developed among bank employees.

The lower chamber passed a Senate bill appropriating $2,417,847 to make up deficiencies in current appropriations for state agencies.

Stirred by suggestions it was opening a way to more chain banking in Michigan, the Senate killed a proposal to allow business and banking stockholders to vote their stock cumulatively.

Heroism Revealed In Ship Disaster On Lake Superior

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—The heroism of a junior officer who apparently gave his life to save fellow crewmen on the sinking freighter Henry Steinbrenner was described by a Coast Guard board of inquiry yesterday.

Six survivors of the freighter tragedy off Isle Royale in Lake Superior Monday had the highest praise for Arthur Morse of Michigan City, Ind., third assistant engineer who is listed as presumed dead.

They said Morse helped others into a lifeboat, then stayed on the Steinbrenner to cut a line so the lifeboat could clear the ore-laden ship, which was going down fast.

Lines Get Tangled

The survivors, headed by Capt. Albert Stiglin, appeared before the Coast Guard board, headed by Capt. H. C. Moore, chief of staff of the ninth Coast Guard district.

Allen R. Augusburger, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., told the board that Morse helped crewmembers climb into a lifeboat after the order to abandon ship had been given.

Augusburger said Morse then elected to stay on the fast sinking Steinbrenner while the lifeboat cleared the ship. Morse cut a holding line which had been overlooked by the other crew members, enabling the lifeboat to clear the freighter before it sank.

Other survivors told of the efforts of the crew to abandon ship.

One said both lifeboats on the Steinbrenner became tangled in lines while being lowered from the stricken vessel.

Survivors said several of the crew were panic-stricken at the thought of abandoning the freighter for the icy waters of Lake Superior in an open lifeboat.

Nine Bodies Found

Augusburger and other witnesses said the machinery and the condition of the Steinbrenner was "good" when the ship left Duluth, Minn., on its ill-fated trip.

Twelve of the 14 known survivors of the sinking are in Sault Ste. Marie and two others are in Superior, Wis. Seventeen crewmen lost their lives in the sinking. Only nine bodies have been recovered.

Capt. Stiglin testified that the huge seas, rather than the high winds, tore the ship's hatch covers loose and caused the freighter to founder.

"When I saw the hatch covers blown across the deck," Stiglin said, "I knew it was all over."

The Steinbrenner sank within minutes after the hatch covers were torn loose, allowing water to pour into her cargo holds.

Washington Watches Big Steel For Clue On Wage Increases

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Industrial America and the Eisenhower administration watched the steel capital today for an indication of what may be in the wind in the way of steel wage increases which could affect the prices of practically every commodity in the land.

The watchful waiting began as the CIO United Steelworkers opened its first negotiating session today with big United States Steel Corp.

Head Off Inflation

The steelworkers union is asking the industry to increase wages of its 1,100,000 members. It traditionally begins its bargaining with U. S. Steel, which usually sets the pace for the entire industry.

In past years wage increases in steel were followed by similar hikes in other industries. That is why the other industries and the new Eisenhower administration are watching. Since wage and price controls were lifted, the new GOP administration has said it would make every effort to head off another inflationary spiral.

The steelworkers union, which also scheduled a negotiating session with Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company in Youngstown, O., hasn't spelled out its demands. But it is believed to be seeking about 10 cents an hour more for workers now averaging from $2.06 to $2.20.

Free To Strike

If no agreement is reached by June 30 the union is free to strike.

Freight Is Derailed On Milwaukee Road

ELKHORN, Wis. (AP)—Twenty-six cars of a Milwaukee Road freight train left the rails and piled up for a mile along the right-of-way at Springfield, eight miles south-east of Elkhorn, today.

The derailment spewed gasoline and other merchandise over the area, ripped up rails and ties, and splintered rail equipment. No one was injured.

Allies Again Accused Of Using Poison Gas

TOKYO (AP)—The Communist Peiping radio again today accused the Allies of firing poison gas shells in Korea. The propaganda broadcast monitored here by Radio Chicago said 20 gas shells were fired at Communist lines between May 5 and May 9.

The U. N. Command repeatedly has denied using either poison gas or germ bombs against the Reds.

This year USW President David J. McDonald will be conducting his first negotiations for the big steel union. He succeeded Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the steelworkers, who died several months ago.

An old hand at the negotiating sessions will lead the U. S. Steel team. He is John A. Stephens, vice president of the big corporation.

Similar contract talks will open tomorrow in Pittsburgh with Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. and in Cleveland Monday with Republic Steel Corp.

Peninsula Will Get 4th Judge

LANSING (AP)—The immediate appointment of a second circuit judge in Berrien County and the later election of a new circuit judge in the Upper Peninsula were approved in a bill which passed the House 63-12 yesterday.

The bill, if the Senate concurs in amendments, would permit Gov. Williams to appoint the new Berrien County judge as soon as he signs the bill.

The measure also splits the huge 25th judicial circuit in the Upper Peninsula, leaving only Marquette and Delta counties in it. Dickinson, Iron and Menominee counties are removed and made into the 41st circuit.

The new northern circuit judge would be elected in November, 1954.

Delay Proposed To Review Cuts In Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today scheduled debate on the first regular 1954 money bill to reach it this year, but Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) said he might try to force a delay.

Douglas said in an interview the Republican leadership had not complied with the rule requiring that a report on the bill be filed three days before it is taken up. Douglas said he wanted to scan the report for possible further cuts in the measure, which carries 457 million dollars for 22 government agencies.

Slashes Accepted

The House was concerned with another money bill. It was called into session two hours before its usual meeting time to consider a measure carrying $3,444,145,000 to finance the Treasury and Post Office Departments for the 1954 fiscal year, which starts July 1.

The House had made sweeping reductions under former President Truman's budget requests in the bill up for Senate action today, and the Senate appropriations committee accepted nearly all of them.

As approved by the committee, the measure carries $6,392,000 more than the House voted. But it is 715 million dollars under the Truman figures and 536 million less than the sums allotted to the same agencies for the current year.

Housing Plan Restored

However, the Senate committee voted to put back in the bill authority to build up to 35,000 low-rent public housing units in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

The Eisenhower administration had recommended 35,000 new starts but the House refused to permit any. Truman asked for 75,000. For the current fiscal year, 35,000 were authorized.

Tax On Business Monies Opposed

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Senate's business receipts tax bill was meeting increasing storms today.

One setback came in a closed caucus of House Republicans. GOP representatives reportedly were hostile to the bill and came within five votes of reviving the Van Valkenburg payroll tax bill, now on the table in the House after one defeat.

The second setback came from deputy Attorney General Arthur T. Iverson. He said he had given a tentative oral opinion, subject to further study, that the business receipts tax bill could not be attached to the Christmas income tax bill, the vehicle which the Senate taxation committee used to get it out on the floor for action.

In the Senate itself, the bill's future teetered. There was close betting whether it could pass that chamber at all.

Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), chairman of the Senate taxation committee which sponsored the new tax plan, scheduled a public hearing at 8 p. m. tonight to give adversaries and supporters their say on the measure.

Texas City Assists Tornado-Torn Waco

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP)—Texas City, a town with a memory, was collecting clothing, equipment of all sorts and money today to help tornado-torn Waco, Tex.

Texas City was the victim, April 16, 1947, when an explosion of a chemical-laden French freighter touched off a series of gigantic blasts and fires in which 322 persons died.

Waco was one of the first cities in Texas to offer its aid, and this town of 20,000 on the Gulf Coast still remembers.

House Republicans Oppose Extension Of Tax On Business

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans on the House Ways and Means committee said today they are ready to oppose solidly any Eisenhower administration proposal to extend the excess profits tax on business.

And Committee Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) indicated his group will be "too busy" with other things even to hold hearings within the next few months on an upcoming administration tax program.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has promised the administration would be ready next week to give Congress its recommendations on tax reductions or increases, along with detailed estimates of prospects for balancing the budget.

The administration reportedly has been considering asking for an extension of the excess profits tax to help ease an expected budget deficit in the year beginning July 1.

GOP members of the ways and means committee reviewed this situation privately at a recent meeting, several of them reported today, and reaffirmed a decision to line up unanimously against any extension of the levy.

The committee of 15 Republicans and 10 Democrats originates all tax bills in Congress. The excess profits tax, now bringing in an estimated 2½ billion dollars a year, expires automatically June 30 unless extended by Congress.

Negroes Elected Down In Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP)—Atlanta, a Democratic stronghold for many decades, gave public posts to three Negroes in a primary which set a precedent by omitting the label of "Democrat."

Mayor William B. Hartsfield, president of the American Municipal Association, was re-elected to a fifth term yesterday. His opponent, Charlie Brown, former Fulton County commissioner, declared Hartsfield's 32,253 to 25,114 margin of victory was due to "Negro bloc voting."

Dr. Rufus G. Clement, Negro president of Atlanta University, defeated his white opponent, J. H. Landers, in a race for a school board post held by Landers for 26 years. The vote was on a city-wide, not ward basis and gave Clement 22,142, Landers 13,800.

Not since Reconstruction days had a Negro tried for election to the Atlanta board of education. Negroes also won a measure of political recognition in election for the first time—of two Negroes—A. T. Walden and Miles Amos—of the 16-member City Executive Committee, which governs elections.

The contests actually were decided in a Democratic primary with the label of "Democrat" removed. This forestalled complications that might have arisen because of the fact that so many electors voted Republican in the 1952 general election.

3 Fire Calls Here At Once

Three fires in three garages in the same general location at the same time yesterday evening challenged men and equipment of the Escanaba fire department.

The first call at 4 p. m. was to extinguish a fire in a garage at the rear of 422 S. Tenth St. Arriving there the firemen looked down the alley and saw a much worse blaze in a garage at the rear of 405 S. 11th St., owned by Harry J. Ehnerd.

The Ehnerd three-car garage had trucks in it and one of the trucks was slightly damaged. The building loss was estimated at $1,000.

Firemen had summoned the North Escanaba fire truck and crew for the double fire, when police came up to report that a third garage was afire at the rear of 519 S. 11th St.

Children playing with matches caused the fire in one garage and the others were believed to have started from rubbish fires.

Other fires yesterday afternoon included a blaze in a truck driven by Martin Falk of Rock. A few rounds of cheese were damaged.

C. Y. O. Talent Show—St. Anne's C. Y. O. will present a talent program tonight at 8:15 at the William Bonifas Auditorium. The general public is invited.

Stamp Collectors—The Escanaba Philatelic Society will hold a mid-month meeting Saturday evening beginning at 7:30 in the city hall. A stamp trading session is planned. All stamp collectors are invited to attend.

U. C. T. Rummage Sale—Ladies' Auxiliary of the U. C. T. will hold a rummage sale Saturday, May 16, in the afternoon at the Quality Home Furniture store. Donations should be taken to the store or phone 950-R.

St. Stephen's Auxiliary—A meeting of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary, originally scheduled for Friday afternoon at 2:30, has been postponed until Friday, May 22, when it will be held in St. Stephen's Church.

Motorists Ticketed—Traffic violation tickets have been issued by Escanaba police to the following motorists: James M. Truckee, 1703 Tenth Ave. S., failure to stop and identify himself after backing from the curb and striking the fender of a parked car; Edward J. Ryan, 702 S. 19th St., crossing fire hose; Roxine Lueneberg, 423 S. Ninth St., crossing fire hose; Albert Kurth, 504 Superior Ave., Gladstone, speeding; Alvin L. Latondress, St. Ignace, disobeying stop sign; Dick Plouff, 902 N. 20th St., speeding; Elsie Durno, 1323 Stephenson Ave., defective headlights and no operator's license; Eleanor Ickes, 1223 Ninth Ave. S., defective tail light; Eugene L. Peterson, Menominee RFD, defective head light and brakes.

City Plants Many Trees And Shrubs

Escanaba parks and forestry department crews are now completing their spring planting program after setting out several hundred trees and shrubs, according to Robert Clayton, parks and forestry superintendent.

Thirty-four shade trees have been planted along Escanaba streets and the city has orders for 19 more to do this spring. After those are in the additional orders will be held over until planting time next fall or the following spring.

At the city's new water plant at Ludington Park 329 small trees and shrubs and 137 evergreens have been planted in landscaping the area. Additional plantings and seeding of the lawn will be completed when the lawn sprinkling system is installed.

Three hundred and seventy-nine small trees and shrubs, some for later planting along streets and at the water plant site, have been planted in the city's holding nursery near the sewage disposal plant.

The planting in the city was started April 21 and is done in springtime when weather conditions are most favorable for success.

Entries Doubled In Spelling Bees

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—The modest Victorian gentleman who presided over the first National Spelling Bee 28 years ago is quite surprised that the baby has grown to such a big fellow.

Dr. George Stockton Wills, 86-year-old Western Maryland College professor emeritus, notes that last year the bee drew twice as many contestants as the first one in 1925.

And, he rates today's spellers as more accomplished.

But the rivalry will be no stronger when the contest opens in Washington May 18 than it was in 1925, 1926 and 1947 when Dr. Wills presided, he believes.

A look at the word list for the 1926 National Spelling Bee shows such puzzlers as davis, spavin, cache, dactyl, tegument, fichu and intaglio.

In 1927, Dr. Wills was pronouncing the words as tabescent, yttrium, endophyte, lacinated.

The son of an itinerant Methodist minister, the octogenarian scholar dates his memories with "before the war" and "after the war."

"When I say 'the war,'" he explains, "I mean the Spanish-American war."

The changes that have taken place in educating the young since Dr. Wills acted as first pronouncer for the National Spelling Bee he summarizes in this way:

"Then, we were teaching old English. Now it's dropped from the curriculum. People have become practical."

Ship's Anchor Lost Three Years Ago Is Recovered From Bay

Three years ago the ore carrier Munising lost her anchor and 400 feet of chain in Little Bay de Noc. Tuesday evening the Str. Widener lifted her own anchor—and brought up the one lost by the Munising.

Weighing an estimated 6,000 pounds and valued at several hundred dollars, the salvaged anchor becomes the property of the finder. The anchor was left at the C&NW ore docks by the Widener, which cleared the harbor yesterday morning with a cargo of ore.

The Munising's lost anchor had been the object of search by Don Bichler, Escanaba diver, who located it last summer and attached a line to it, intending to pick it up this spring with the assistance of Capt. Ben Gallagher and his tug.

Last year another steamer had its anchor fouled in the lost "hook" from the Munising, but was unable to recover it.

Bichler and his assistants and Capt. Gallagher last year brought up an anchor lost from the Str. G. B. Fink—and the salvagers received $400 for the 8,000-pound piece of essential ship's equipment.

New Gravity Suits To Prevent Pilot Blackouts Tested

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A daring experiment on the hearts of five young Air Force doctors has opened the way for development of a new, more comfortable kind of gravity suit to prevent pilot blackouts.

The tests, conducted by Capt. Owen L. Slaughter, now of Evansville, Ind., were reported to the closing meeting of the Aero Medical Association here yesterday.

Two long, flexible tubes called catheters were inserted through blood vessels in the neck and into the heart of each physician under test. This was done to measure the exact blood pressure in the heart while the lower halves of their bodies were being compressed as in a gravity or blackout suit.

Catheters are used frequently on one side or the other of the heart but never before have they been used simultaneously on both sides. Dr. Slaughter said. The one-sided operation is only slightly dangerous but the hazard is increased many fold when both sides are catheterized. However, no bad effects appeared, Dr. Slaughter reported.

Flight surgeons long had believed that tight-squeezing gravity suits worked by preventing the blood from crowding into the lower part of the body during high-speed dives or turns, leaving little or none in the head and causing momentary unconsciousness.

The tests showed, Dr. Slaughter said, that the gravity suit does not work that way. Instead it causes the arteries in the legs and lower abdomen to increase their resistance to blood flow. This causes increased blood pressure in the upper part of the body and makes it easier for the heart to pump blood to the brain, he reported.

As a result, Dr. Slaughter said he would suggest that gravity suits be redesigned specifically with the idea of compressing arteries in the lower part of the body, as a first aid worker might do in holding the "pressure points" to stop hemorrhage.

It should not be necessary to make suits that will compress the flesh, he said.

Dr. Slaughter recently completed his tour of Air Force duty and returned to private practice.

Man Held In Shell Lake For Passing Bad Checks Here

Marcel L. McCumber of Hayward, Wis., who allegedly passed $380 in bad checks to six taverns and a hotel in this area late in April is being held in county jail in Shell Lake, Wis., for the Delta County officials, Sheriff William Miron said this morning.

Establishments claimed to be victimized by McCumber, included Larry's Bar, Kipling; Lincoln House, Gladstone; Highway Tavern, Gladstone; the Dells; "Y" Tavern; Ren's Tavern, Gladstone; and the Sherman Hotel, the sheriff said.

Some of the checks were drawn on banks which sent them back marked "No Account," one victim said.

McCumber, accused of passing four checks at Ren's Tavern, sent the tavern money to cover two of them, the sheriff said. The check passer also wired the Sherman Hotel $20 as part payment on three checks totaling $60 which he cashed there, it was reported.

McCumber described himself as a sales representative for a vacuum company, and worked with a Gladstone representative of the firm while here.

One tavern owner received a letter from McCumber, which read:

"I'm sorry for this inconvenience; if the office hasn't covered the checks you are holding, please drop me a card at the below address and I'll get them cleaned up. Thanks again."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—James Glenn wants his money back.

When the 33-year-old Philadelphian was arrested yesterday on charges of maintaining an illegal lottery he quickly showed police his gambler's federal tax stamp.

The patient police explained that the stamp was a tax and not a license to gamble.

But Glenn wasn't convinced. Now he threatens to go to the Internal Revenue Bureau and get his $50 back.

U. P. Warehouse In Tip-Top Shape

Harold Kinder, business manager of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, said this morning that everything is in tip-top shape at the local warehouse of the Liquor Control Commission and at the U. P. headquarters.

"The mess that developed in the Detroit warehouse could not happen in Escanaba or Lansing," Kinder said. The business manager explained that the Escanaba and Lansing warehouse personnel are under civil service and operate with entirely different rules than in Detroit, where employees were accused of payroll padding and thefts from the liquor warehouse.

Kinder said that his visit to Escanaba was routine and was not pertaining to any developments from the Detroit liquor scandals. Kinder said that a primary purpose of his visit here was to discuss hauling rates with the contract carrier and to visit state stores in this area.

To Discuss Scout Jamboree Program Here Friday Night

An orientation meeting for Red Buck District Scouts who will attend the National Jamboree and their parents will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the library of Escanaba Junior High School.

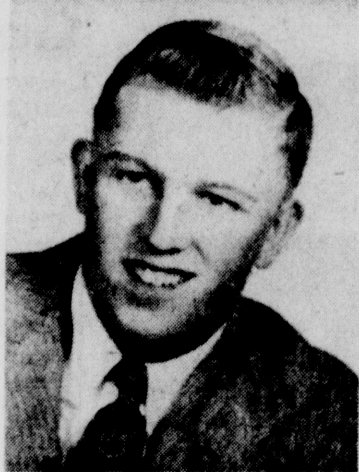

Atty. William Anderson of Escanaba, district Jamboree chairman, has invited council Scout executive Donald Teisberg of Marquette and district Scout executive Andy Houston to be present and to answer any questions regarding uniforms, equipment, transportation, special side trips, etc.

The Red Buck district contingent will leave Escanaba on July 10 for Irvine Ranch near Santa Ana, California, which will be the site of the 1953 National Jamboree, and they will return to Escanaba on July 29. Enroute they will stop over to visit the Grand Canyon, Salt Lake City and Hoolver Dam.

At the Jamboree they will camp with 50,000 Scouts from every state in the nation and will exchange ideas with Scouts from other countries who will be present with the international contingent.

The Red Buck district contingent includes: Douglas Perry, Dick Harrison and Bill Hanrahan of Escanaba; Tom O'Brien, Dan Sinclair, Gerald Tang and Franklin Lash of Gladstone; Robert Anderson and William Daniels of Hermansville; Harlan LaVigne of Nahma; and John Liegeois of Powers.

There are still several openings in the contingent and interested Scouts or parents are welcome to attend Friday meeting to learn more of the Jamboree.

Bitter Egypt Lists Killings By British

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt lashed back at Britain last night in the increasingly bitter war of words between Cairo and London. She accused British soldiers of killing eight Egyptians and wounding 17 in recent outbreaks of violence in the strategic Suez Canal Zone.

An Interior Ministry statement charged incidents in the canal area since March 1 had been due to "the British military's provocative actions." A British military spokesman said two persons had been killed and two wounded on the British side since April 1. British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons in London Tuesday there had been 30 attacks on the British since April 1.

The Egyptian casualty figures were announced shortly after Egypt's chief of staff, Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, predicted a popular uprising against British forces unless the London government removes its 80,000-man garrison from the canal zone within two or three months.

Egypt has demanded unconditional British evacuation of the zone. Britain says its huge base there must be maintained for the use of the free world. Negotiations between the two countries on the dispute broke down a week ago when the British stood fast on demands that 5,000 British technicians remain to keep the base in operating condition. The Egyptians said they could do the job with only 500.

Draft Call For July Reduced To 23,000
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army draft call for July is 23,000, the lowest since last June's record low of 10,000.

The July call, issued yesterday, brings to 1,469,430 the number of men drafted or earmarked for induction since selective service was resumed after the Korean War started in mid-1950.

All but 81,430 of these, who went into the Marines during a 10-month period, were called for the Army. The Defense Department said the lowered draft for July is in line with the reduced military budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Highlighting the social side of the convention will be a smorgasbord given in the Georgian Room at the Mather Inn at 6:30 p. m., followed by a dance. Ivan Kobasic will furnish the music.

Officers of the Upper Peninsula association, besides Tollefson, president, are C. L. Smith, Manistique, vice-president; George E. Sivula, Negaunee, secretary, and Alvin Brodeur, Hancock, treasurer.

Gaines Will Talk To Sportsmen Tonight

May meeting of the Delta County Sportsmen's Club tonight at Carpenters' Hall will feature a talk by Harry Gaines of Grand Rapids, executive secretary of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, a pancake feed and movies. Pancake serving will begin at 7:30.

Members of committees working in the kitchen and serving will meet at the hall between 6 and 6:30 to get ready for the feed.

William DeCock will show sports movies after the meeting.

Ore Boat Damages No. 6 Dock Slightly

The Widener, a Pittsburgh Steamship Co. ore boat, broke a couple of timbers in No. 6 Dock when she bumped the dock hard on landing Tuesday afternoon. The Widener was undamaged.

Because of a heavy north wind the boat, which arrived here about 4 p. m., had to stand out in the harbor about two hours before making port.

Donald T. Holmes Participates In Launching Of Ship

Lt. Comdr. Donald T. Holmes, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holmes, 530 S. 14th St., was a leading participant when a new minesweeper, the AMS-121, was launched May 11 at Mare Island Naval Base, San Francisco.

Lt. Comdr. Holmes is shipbuilding superintendent at the base. In one of the steps of the launching ritual, Lt. Comdr. Holmes reported to the production officer that the ship was ready to launch. In another, he had the ship's burning plate cut.

Lt. Comdr. Holmes graduated from Escanaba High School in 1937. In high school he won letters in football, basketball and track, and was an outstanding student. In 1938 he entered the Naval Academy at Annapolis, from which he graduated in 1942.

Lt. Comdr. Holmes saw active duty with the Pacific fleet during World War II. Recently he was stationed three years at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C.

Now living in Vallejo, Calif., Lt. Comdr. Holmes is married and the father of three children.

Driver Training Program Will Help To Cut Accident Rate

THE plan of the Escanaba Public Schools to institute a driver training program for students approaching the age of 16 years is a move deserving of hearty approval.

At the outset the program will be offered as a summer course and nearly 100 students have indicated a desire to participate. Ultimately the driver training program may be expanded to include training during the school year.

Bevan's Analysis Is Faulty

ABOUT the nicest thing you can say of Aneurin Bevan of the British Labor Party is that he deserves to be ignored. Unfortunately, he can't be, since he speaks for the large left-wing segment of that party and might one day be prime minister.

Right now, amid the general waves of praise for President Eisenhower's peace speech, Bevan is voicing sharp criticism. He claims he demanded "everything" and conceded nothing to the Russians.

Well, here is just one small sample to show how faulty his analysis is. Said Bevan: "You are not going to get peace in the world if you insist on the Soviet Union accepting a whole range of humiliating conditions..."

Anybody who troubled to read the speech is aware the President used the word "must" only when he spoke of an honorable armistice in Korea. In setting down his other proposals, he used much less insistent language like "should" and "could" and "leading to."

Bevan apparently is so eager to oppose that he forgets to familiarize himself with the things he wants to oppose.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Even the best of speakers sometimes go astray on matters of grammar, unless they have taken the precaution to write the speech in advance and then to read or memorize it. But mistakes made during an extemporaneous speech are not uncommon and many of them are excusable.

Thus, as a correspondent calls to my attention, one of the speakers in the Presidential campaign of six months ago made the mistake of putting himself first when he said, "I and my constituents..." although earlier he had correctly said, "My constituents and I..." I can understand that. In the second instance he began to express a personal opinion or belief, then suddenly recalled that he was speaking not only for himself, but also for others who shared the opinion or belief. Having started the sentence, a correction would have been more conspicuous than the grammatical error.

But errors that give speakers the most concern, aside from the confounded "who" and "whom," are the collective nouns or nouns of multitude. Should one say, "An audience of five hundred men and women is assembled," or, "an audience of five hundred men and women are assembled"? Should it be, "A majority of the members has agreed," or, "A majority of the members have agreed"?

That type of problem is fairly simple. If the speaker is thinking of the group as a single unit—and that is generally the case—he uses the singular verb or has. But if he thinks of the members of the group as separate individuals, he uses the plural verb or have. An example of the latter is, "The committee have expressed wide differences of opinion." Here the speaker is thinking of the individual member of the committee.

The Doctor Says... More Rest and Less Worry Help to Check Migraine Pain

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Mrs. B. writes that she is suffering from severe migraine headaches and asks how to get rid of them. There must be many others in the same unfortunate situation.

The first step, of course, is to make sure that the headaches are really migraine and not some other kind. This requires professional assistance. As a clue, however, it may be said that most victims of migraine frequently have some peculiar feelings before the headaches begin.

Sometimes they report seeing visions of animals, become acutely depressed, excessively hungry, or experience some similar change from normal which they come to recognize as foreshadowing an attack of migraine.

Another common characteristic migraine headaches is difficulty with vision—usually blurring or spots—coming on about the same time as the headache. The headache itself is likely to start gradually, but become worse and worse and spread more widely. In many, if not most cases, the headache is on one side and those who have severe attacks may be really knocked out for a day or two.

A great many drugs and other treatments have been suggested for migraine. Some of them are helpful, particularly if started at the time of warning or the beginning of the attack. However, one of the best articles on this subject which I have seen recently says:

"Nothing out of the bottle will offer

Teaching youngsters to drive logically should be a basic part of a high school curriculum. It is one of the essential knowledges in today's complex society. And it is extremely important that the youngsters learn the safe way to drive.

Unfortunately 'teen agers generally are hellish drivers. They are reckless, drive too fast, turn sharp curves on two wheels, take off with heavy peddle and stop with jammed brakes. Their accident ratio is far greater than that of motorists who are older. And that's why premium rates are charged to drivers under 25.

Driver training classes in schools have proved to be sensationally effective in meeting this problem. Records maintained by insurance companies show conclusively that driver training programs emphasize the safety factor with startling results. The accident ratio of motorists who have had driver training in school is not only much lower than the accident ratio of others who have not had such training, but it is also lower than the average for all ages.

Everybody may not be a whiz at algebra, Latin and physics but everybody must be a safe driver if we are going to reduce the terrible toll of automobile accidents in the United States.

It is, of course, paradoxical that 'teen agers are accident-prone drivers. They have the physical capabilities for top rate drivers. Their vision generally is better than their elders and their physical reflexes are sharper. But they are not conscious of the grave responsibilities that must accompany their right to drive. They fail to realize that an automobile can be as dangerous as a loaded rifle.

Driver training programs emphasize these factors and the students understand his responsibilities before he completes the course and gets his driver license.

CULTURE COSTS MONEY (Green Bay Press Gazette)

The nation's libraries, museums, zoos and other cultural institutions are in financial trouble. Most of them were founded by men of great wealth who left millions in endowments in the hope that these institutions would never lack income to pay for upkeep, renovations and expansion.

But inflation and the needs of a growing population have left these endowments far behind. Today our cultural centers are mostly tax-supported—and must compete with police and fire departments, schools, hospitals and other public services for the taxpayer's dollar. And culture gets little of the gravy.

Suggestions have been made that such institutions be put upon a charging and paying basis, a small admission fee at the door of a museum, and a dollar or two a year for the privilege of holding a library card.

Libraries and museums are actually a part of our educational system and it would be as incongruous to charge fees for their use, at least to children, as to exact a fee of the same youngsters for attending public school.

We are hard pressed for public funds but we actually can afford everything that we really need. And we are still carrying a great load of wastage and extravagance everywhere. These institutions can be maintained free to the public if the government will just be fair with the people and eliminate the luxuries we can do without.

more than passing relief. Cure must be brought about by the patient himself, guided by his doctor.

The first recommendation made in the article is that the day's work should be reduced. Enough time should be allowed for rest. The person at 50 should not work as at 20.

The second suggestion is to avoid needless and useless worry. Worry is a waste of time. Most people realize this, but often they do not understand how much they can do for themselves by training themselves out of such a habit.

ACHIEVE MORE HARMONY

The third suggestion is to change some of your standards. If the standards are not adding to enjoyment and satisfaction in life, the attitude towards one's own high standards should be somewhat modified so that one does not resent or become anxious about situations, particularly those caused by others.

The final point made in this article was to develop fuller tolerance of other people. This is closely tied to the second and third points, and perhaps they are all part of developing a philosophy towards life which will make one's own daily affairs as much in harmony with what goes on outside as it is possible to do.

As a matter of fact, the same points made for migraine headache would not be a bad idea for everyone to consider, including those who feel themselves perfectly normal.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—After almost one year of diplomatic dickering the United States is concluding an agreement with Dictator Franco for air and naval bases on Spanish soil. But in order to pin Franco down, U. S. negotiators had to promise secretly an additional future $400,000,000. This is on top of the $187,500,000 already voted him by congress, and will make a total of $587,500,000.

One factor which nudged Franco's elbow was knowledge that part of his money—the $126,000,000 voted by congress last year—was about to expire. If the contract wasn't signed by June 30, Franco knew that this $125,000,000 went right back into the treasury to help balance the Eisenhower budget. And Franco isn't much interested in balancing Ike's budget or anyone's except his own.

This is another chapter in government by Washington attorneys and illustrates how certain lawyers representing foreign embassies sometimes exert more influence than the State Department.

One year ago, both the State Department and the White House, which under the constitution are entrusted with the conduct of U. S. foreign affairs, informed congress that they did not want or need bases in Spain. They pointed out that we had all we could do to equip bases in France, England and Western Europe under the NTO pact, and that we were already short on artillery and munitions. If supplies went to non-NATO Spain, they said, it would create ill will both in Korea and among our NATO allies to whom deliveries already were behind schedule.

PAYS TO HAVE LAWYERS

They also pointed out that Franco was not willing to take the Spanish army outside Spain; that the arming of Spain would make it appear to France and England that we were going to abandon them, in case of attack, and move to Spain. From behind the safety of the Pyrenees, the French and British argued, the United States would serenely watch the conflict, while the rest of Europe was swept over by Red invaders.

Despite this, Franco got $125,000,000. It was voted him by congress right over the heads of the President and Secretary of State.

Chief reason for this was the persuasive influence of the Spanish lobby and Franco's two attorneys, Charles Patrick Clark and Max Truitt, son-in-law of ex-Vice President Barkeley Clark, who carefully complies with the foreign agents registration act, was paid $103,499.56 by Franco in 1951 and $79,500 in 1952, according to the Justice Department's listing of foreign agents. Max Truitt, who also registers under the act, was more modest. He got only $22,000 in 1951 and $11,000 in 1952.

However, Clark helped to influence congressional speeches, played gin rummy with key congressmen, threw fancy parties, ran the gamut of the social lobby to get congress to vote money for Spain. He succeeded.

That was why Franco, previously grandiloquent in his promises of naval and air bases, suddenly got cagey, refused to grant those bases. He figured he could go over the heads of the White House and the State Department once again—thanks to the new Washington system of foreign affairs by influential attorneys.

It now looks as if he was right. Another $400,000,000 is due to come his way.

SANDWICHED SPEAKER

Senator Taft was speaking at a Yale Club dinner, along with new GOP Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut, and New York Herald Tribune pundit August Heckscher.

The large crowd of Yale alumni at the dinner were expecting to hear a few brief remarks from Bush and from Heckscher, then settle down for a real speech from Yale's most famous alumnus, Robert Alphonso Taft, who in addition to graduating from Old Eli, also served on its board of trustees.

However, they hadn't reckoned on Heckscher. Following a speech from Senator Bush, he held forth eloquently on academic freedom. Minutes ticked by, then quarter hours, almost an hour. Senator Taft sat, listened politely.

The hands of the clock reached 11:30. "I am honored," said Heckscher, "to be sandwiched in between two such distinguished speakers as Senators Bush and Taft." Finally he sat down.

Ex-Sen. John Danaher of Connecticut, toastmaster of the evening, rose.

"Heckscher refers to being that part of a sandwich between two pieces of bread," he said. "Let's agree that he certainly must be regarded as the baloney between two slices of good bread."

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has already mailed out 99 per cent of all tax refunds due this year's taxpayers. Checks, averaging $71 each, have gone out to almost 31,000,000 taxpayers. By speeding up the refunds the Bureau has saved more than $2,000,000 in interest normally paid in the past. Congratulations... Grace Tully, FDR's former private secretary, is now working at Democratic headquarters, her full salary being paid from a contribution by Averell Harriman. He insisted that the money be used only for Miss Tully's salary.

Helmets In Style:

Everything's Under Tin Hat At Savannah H-Bomb Plant

By WADE JONES

NEA Staff Correspondent
AIKEN, S. C. (NEA)—The big yellow and black sign on the highway 15 miles south of here says, "Caution, you are entering the area of the Savannah River Plant."

That's like telling a tight-wire walker over Niagara Falls to watch his step.

Because if there's one place in the world where a person is going to be cautious without being told to, it's at the Savannah River Plant.

The plant is not, as you might expect from its mild name and Dixie setting, a place where they make mockingbird cages.

It's the home of the hydrogen bomb—also known as the H-bomb and the Hell Bomb—this bomb to end all bombs, and maybe all people.

The Hell Bomb is so powerful it takes an atom bomb to even set it off. They figure that a medium-sized one would burn the buttons off everybody in a 300-square-mile area.

The nearly 30,000 workers at the plant walk softly and take a pretty serious view of things. For instance, there's the matter of the helmets.

You pull up to the three-story gray administration building and the first thing you notice is three men working on the lawn, cutting grass and pruning. They all wear gray metal helmets, with goggles strapped on the front.

Inside the building, typical-looking executives wearing business suits, some fat and some wearing eyeglasses, also wear brown metal helmets with the goggles in front. Others have on the same get-up, except they wear pistol holsters around their hips. With pistols.

It turns out there are enough cops here to run a place the size of San Francisco or Boston or Washington, D. C.

The girl at the information counter asks you so many questions it sounds like Quiz Kids. Another girl takes you into a little room and takes your picture. The first one looks like the Hermit of Sharktooth Shoal, so she cuts it up in tiny pieces and throws them in the wastebasket.

The next picture comes out all right and they put it on a badge and pin it to your coat. The badge has lots of little squares around the edges with holes punched in a few of them. The holes designate places in the 202,000-acre plant area where you will be allowed to go. It doesn't seem like there are very many holes.

A young man comes downstairs and says he is going to be your guide and leads you out to a car, past some more men with pistols.

By now you feel like Public Enemy No. 1.

"What would you like to know?" he says. "Ask me some questions. Go ahead, ask me."

Nature seems like a safe topic so you ask him what kind of flowers those red ones over there are. He looks disgusted.

By now the car is passing a strange-looking long gray building with a big fence around it. You ask him what they're doing in that building.

"About those flowers," he says. Then a buzzing begins under the dashboard. The young man stops the car and pulls a telephone out of the glove compartment and begins talking. Turns out he's a cop, too.

SAVANNAH RIVER SCENERY these days is not complete without metal helmets like these workers wear everywhere they go.

Over on the right is a big hole in the ground with red clay piled all around it. The whole thing is enclosed by one of those triple-decked fences with barbed wire on top. On the fence is a sign with red letters saying, "Danger, Radiation Zone."

The young man seems to have thawed out a lot. "You can feel free to draw any conclusions you like from what you see around here," he says.

That led to one of the quickest conclusions ever drawn — "Let's get out of here."

On the way back to the administration building, the guide got downright talkative and explained that the people wore the tin hats because it was a regulation of the DuPont company on all construction jobs. DuPont is constructing the whole project and will run it under Atomic Energy Commission supervision.

The plant — actually there are several widely scattered buildings connected by 75 miles of railroads and 105 miles of highways—produces the ingredients for both atom bombs and H-bombs.

Somebody has figured out that "in magnitude and scope it has never been approached by any other single undertaking anywhere." The materials used would fill a train reaching from Atlanta, Ga., to New York. The dirt removed would form a wall 10 feet high and six feet wide from Atlanta to Portland, Ore.

When they get through building

the plant a permanent force of about 7,000 will actually produce whatever it is they're supposed to produce.

The guide seemed to be under the impression that there couldn't be an accidental H-bomb explosion here, because the things would be assembled elsewhere. But you know how guides are.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

OUT OF THE PAST—One of Escanaba's earliest newspapers was The Iron Port, founded in 1879. As late as 1906, the year we will write about, The Iron Port was a flourishing paper managed by the late G. F. McEwen.

Several copies of the July 6, 1906, Iron Port came to light recently when LeRoy Young of 1517 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, began wrecking an old building at Eighth Street and First Ave. S. in Escanaba.

Young, son-in-law of the Lloyd Ketchums of Escanaba, will use the salvaged lumber to construct a house at Gladstone. While razing the old business building in Escanaba, unused except for storage, Young found the copies of The Iron Port.

The old newspaper is a revealing commentary on the local scene of 47 years ago and many of the names in the news then are familiar to the community today.

THE BIG PARADE—Big news of the day in July, 1906, was Escanaba's "mammoth" Fourth of July celebration reputedly attended by 15,000 people.

One of the features of the event was the automobile and the newspaper reveals what must have been the names of the owners of some of the earliest autos in the community.

"Auto section: Machines owned by I. K. Edwards, Dr. C. F. Banks, W. W. Oliver, H. W. Reade, F. D. Davis, W. R. Smith, E. J. Grant, Dr. O. C. Breitenbach, D. J. Glavin, C. C. Royce and Senator O. B. Fuller."

Transported in the parade in the more prosaic horse-drawn "carriages" were city officials and the "speakers of the day."

The autos must have been something unique for the winners in the parade receive special mention.

"W. R. Smith, whose auto presented a decidedly attractive appearance in its color scheme of red and white was awarded first prize and E. J. Grant of the Stevenson Jewelry Company, whose automobile carried a well executed design of a gun boat, was awarded second prize."

WITH A BANG—The Fourth of July in those days was marked by an apparent absence of injuries or deaths from the indiscriminate use of explosives and fire crackers.

During the parade fire crackers were tossed as gifts to the youngsters, who no doubt immediately set them off to add to the general noise that accompanied the celebration.

The fireworks display in the evening was no puny half-hour affair. It started at 8:30 and continued to 10 o'clock, and the South Shore "was in an almost continuous state of illumination the air being constantly filled with rockets, bombs and other attractive fireworks pieces."

WHEELS OF PROGRESS—F. D. Davis was superintendent of schools in Escanaba and besides driving an auto in the Fourth of July parade he delivered "an inspiring address" at South Park.

Obviously a forward looking and progressive Republican, Supt. Davis had praise for President Theodore Roosevelt's policies and an optimistic eye to the future.

"We have crossed the threshold of a new century and the mind is dazed and can scarcely comprehend the rapidity of our progress and the vastness of our possibilities as a nation. Former limitations are being swept away," said the school superintendent.

He was more specific on local problems and called for an improvement of the school system and cited the city's sewage disposal problem: "If sewage pollution is allowed to pollute the source of our supply, sickness, sorrow and death will surely follow."

CHANGING TIMES—Forty-seven years ago Escanaba's telephone service was provided by the Finch Company, its electric service was still sufficiently new to make electric lights a subject of comment, gasoline was coming to the market with the automobile—and a law was passed to require that all gasoline cans be painted red.

Reason for the law was the number of unfortunate accidents. People confused the can of gasoline and the can of kerosene, which was accompanied by exploding lamps and consequent fires.

Supt. Davis was right. Progress was to be increasingly rapid in the half-century ahead. Everything was to be bigger, better, and faster. Except the Fourth of July celebration. Today people usually leave town for the holiday—and the automobile is responsible for the change.

Farmers In China's Dixie Win Private Dispute With Reds

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—Farmers in Kwangtung—China's Dixie—appear to have won their own private little fight with the Communists.

The Reds claim they finally have accomplished their land reform program there, but the announcement reads like a page from capitalism.

A 12-point directive, which sounds strangely soft for the Reds, pledges to Kwangtung farmers: private management, private ownership, private employment, private money lending. It promises that no farmer shall be forced into a co-operative or collective movement.

Restless and Dangerous

Kwangtung, in teeming, lush South China, is a restless and dangerous land and noted as a political hater of the "ins." Sun Yat-sen's 1911 rebellion started there. Chiang Kai-shek licked the war lords from there.

Now the Communists have this tiger by the tail and have "reformed" its land. All winter the Reds have been easing away from their tougher farm doctrines. Why?

A recent report by land reform inspectors—who investigate after land reform has been carried out—warned Peiping that too much government interference was cutting production. It said that fear of collectives was causing many farmers to stop farming, that newly redistributed farms were too small for efficiency and that farmers were migrating to the cities.

Last month Premier Chou En-lai directed such migrations should be stopped.

The Communists began their land reform in 1949 and finished in most of China by 1952. But in Kwangtung it dragged along, meeting bloody resistance. In some of the tougher zones there may not have been any land redistribution at all.

Protected From Taxes

Now the "examination of the reform is going on," the Communist news agency reports. The Reds say almost four million acres were confiscated and divided among peasants in an area that contains 32 million people.

The new Red proclamation reassures the new owner that the land is his and that there are no strings attached.

"Safeguarding of private ownership of land, houses, and all kinds of properties is guaranteed," says the proclamation. Even the "re-examiners must not take it away."

The new farmer also shall "enjoy the rights of free operation."

Huge Milk Surplus Faced By Michigan

LANSING (AP)—If we all drank one more glass of milk a day, Michigan could forget the threat of a milk surplus.

A group of dairymen, meeting with the governor yesterday, said Michigan's milk-producers face a surplus of 97,000,000 pounds of milk during the next two months. Williams promised his assistance in a campaign to increase the consumption of milk and other dairy products.

management, purchase, sale and exchange of his property without interference."

The directive said "farm co-operative movements should be encouraged but 'compulsory organization of farm co-operatives or mutual aid teams is strictly forbidden.'"

Above all the Red proclamation says nothing must be done to interfere with production. Even taxes must not interfere.

The Reds decreed: "Farmers who produce more than the fixed normal yield upon which taxes are based shall not be taxed on the excess."

Grand Marais

Lee-Hoffman Nuptials

GRAND MARAIS—Miss Patricia E. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee of Grand Marais became the bride of Lyle William Hoffman of Toledo, O., in a wedding ceremony at the Holy Rosary Church with the Rev. Casimir Mark officiating. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle W. Hoffman Sr. of Toledo.

Pink and white gladioli adorned the altars for the nuptial high mass. The mass was sung by the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Masse with Mrs. Charles Ahlgrim as organist. Mrs. Masse sang Rosewig's "Ave Maria" as the offertory hymn and following the ceremony she sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" while the bride placed a bouquet of red roses on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

The bride's gown of traditional white was designed with a fitted bodice and nylon knit illusion skirt of lace over white satin. She wore a fingertip veil and a coronation type crown. Her jewelry was a string of pearls and carried a white prayer book with a white orchid. Her cousin, Mrs. James Thorrington was her maid of honor. She wore aqua lace over satin and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Richard Santure, of Monroe, Mich., cousin of the bridegroom was the best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Lee wore a black suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Hoffman wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and pink carnations.

Servers assisting Fr. Mark for the mass were Raymond Pettipren, David Bailey, David Nyman and Charles Gauthier. A wedding breakfast was served for the immediate family following the ceremony and a reception was held in the VFW Hall in the afternoon from 2 to 5. A three tiered wedding cake topped with a tiny bride and groom centered the table.

Wedding guests included the bride's brothers, Thomas and Robert of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lee and family of Ontonagon, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Koehler of Cleveland, O., her aunts, Mrs. Emma Seymour, Mrs. Rose Masse, Mrs. Peter Carpenter, and uncle Fred Masse, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Masse of Grand Marais, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hoffman Sr. of Toledo, Mrs. Evelyn Santure of Monroe, Mich., Mrs. Elmer Ragalski of Toledo, sister of the groom and Jean and Virginia Hoffman also sisters of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. George Beaudry of Marquette, godparents of the bride, and Miss Celia Page and Mrs. Edgar Beer of Ishpeming.

After a weeks honeymoon the couple left for Toledo where Mr. Hoffman is employed by the Strong Electric Corp.

Bells, Beef And Beer Feature Coronation

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—Britain will celebrate Queen Elizabeth's coronation with the traditional "three B's" of national rejoicing—bells, beef and beer.

The bells will ring out from every church tower across the country.

The beef will come from oxen roasted whole, Tudor style. The beer will be a special triple-strength brew laid down last year by most brewery firms and now mellow and mature. It will cost up to 5 shillings (70 cents) a pint—four times the normal price—but the brewers say it will keep 50 years and get better all the time.

Thirteen years of meat rationing have made ox roasting a lost art for most Britons but practically every town has dug up some old-timer with the necessary know-how.

Ben Martin will fan the charcoal fire and wield the basting ladle at Wokingham, a Berkshire market town. Ben is 84 and can recall seeing his first ox roasted at Queen Victoria's jubilee in 1887. Since then he has roasted oxen at three coronations.

"It takes experience to roast an ox," he says. "Tain't like frying a mutton chop, y'know."

Beer has a strong supporter in the Rev. W. G. Hargrave Thomas, vicar of Needham Market in Suffolk.

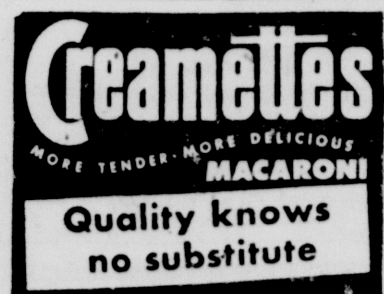

He has persuaded the local elders to put a barrel on the village green for anyone to drink.

"It's quite in order to have a binge on an occasion like this and there's nothing very sinful in a little bit of a spree," he told his parishioners.

Eisenhower Waiting For Proof Of Good Faith From Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he has no objection to a conference of top leaders of the major powers, but that he would first like to see some evidence of good faith from the Soviet Union.

And as yet, he declared, he has seen no evidence of good faith on the part of the Russians in their talk of wanting world peace.

Eisenhower's news conference remarks were in reply to a request for comment on Prime Minister Winston Churchill's speech earlier this week urging a high level conference without great delay.

Eisenhower also declared: "I have met no one in the United States who does not want peace."

The president permitted direct quotation of that remark, made in reply to a request for comment on statements by Clement Attlee, former British prime minister.

Attlee said in the House of Commons yesterday that the Eisenhower administration's hands were tied in seeking peace in Korea by "elements in the U. S. A. that do not want a settlement."

As for Churchill's call for a conference of the leaders of the major parties, the president noted that the State Department suggested yesterday such a conference should await proof of the Soviet Union's sincerity in talking about peace.

Eisenhower said the department's statement was issued with his approval.

Then he went on to say he has seen no evidence of such faith.

Jets Shoot Up Northern Korea

By MILO FARNETI
SEOUL (AP)—U. S. Sabre jets destroyed three Communist MIGs and shot up two more today as hundreds of Allied warplanes swarmed over North Korea for the second straight day.

Small-scale but savage fighting flared along the East-Central Front for the third straight day.

Thirty-eight Sabres flying as fighter-bombers dived on a Red troop and supply area in Central Korea, while 25 other Sabres blasted a Red supply dump farther west. Thunderjets dumped explosives on supply targets near Pyongyang on the Central Front.

The Air Force credited today's MIG kills to Lt. A. R. Cox of Denmark, S. C. Lt. Edwin Aldrin Jr. of Mount Claire, N. J., and a pilot who asked that his name be withheld because he didn't want relatives to know he's in action.

Another MIG probably was shot down and one was damaged, the Air Force said.

A dozen B29 Superforts from Okinawa flew through moderate to intense anti-aircraft fire Wednesday night and cratered a Communist airstrip north of the Chongchon River.

Agriculture Budget Increased In House.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House appropriations committee today recommended an Agriculture Department budget 1.4 per cent larger than President Eisenhower had asked.

It sent to the House floor for debate next week a bill to appropriate $712,308,328 to finance the department's regular activities for the 1954 fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $37,101,014, or 5 per cent, less than former President Truman asked for in his January budget message. But it is $8,942,086 more than the Eisenhower administration requested in a budget revision submitted by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Loans For REA

Most of the increase was earmarked for establishment of 50 small pilot plant watersheds to determine the future course to be followed on upstream watershed protection.

The bill also would authorize loans of $47½ million dollars by the Rural Electrification Administration and the Farmers Home Administration. This is 17½ millions less than Truman requested, but 42½ millions more than Benson asked. All these loans are repayable.

For the agricultural conservation program, the committee authorized 195 million dollars for the 1954 crop year. It said this amount is the minimum in view of "the alarming rate at which the soil of this nation is being lost and depleted."

School Lunches Untouched

It is 55 million dollars less than was authorized for the 1953 crop year and 55 millions more than Benson has asked for 1954.

To meet commitments on the 1953 crop program, the committee approved $211,982,000, a cut of $40,454,000 from Truman requests. Despite this reduction, the committee said, the department should be able to meet all commitments made to farmers.

The school lunch program was allotted $83,365,000, the same amount that Truman requested and the same that was appropriated for this year.

For distribution of farmers' bulletins, the committee recommended $560,000, rejecting Benson's suggestion that this item be cut $118,000. The cut would have reduced the number of bulletins members of Congress may mail free to their constituents.

Godfrey In Hospital For Old Hip Injury

BOSTON (AP)—Radio-television star Arthur Godfrey will undergo surgery "within a few days" to correct hip injuries suffered in an automobile accident 22 years ago, it was announced last night.

The 49-year-old Godfrey suffered 27 fractures when his car collided with a truck in Washington, D. C., in 1931 and he has been in almost constant pain since then.

Two major operations to rebuild his hips will be performed by Dr. Marius N. Smith-Petersen at Massachusetts General Hospital. Godfrey will be hospitalized about eight weeks.

The U. S. negotiated for some three months with the ship's owners to prevent delivery of the jet fuel from Red Rumania to the Peiping government.

Bitter Charges Hurlled In Korea Armistice Talks

the decision to a high-level, post-armistice conference.

The U. N. Command carefully weeded out of the Reds' May 7 proposal any provision that could force prisoners home against their will and suggested that India be the only nation on the commission to supply troops.

At Thursday's one hour and 34-minute session, both sides hurled bitter charges.

World Waiting

North Korean Gen. Nam Il called the Allied plan "unreasonable and absurd" and said it was simply a "disguise" to hold prisoners forcibly.

The senior Communist delegate hammered at the Allied proposal in a long statement that made it clear the Reds found nothing suitable about it.

Twice he referred to the May 7 Red plan as one that would bring the armistice "for which the whole world is longing."

Harrison defended the Allied counterproposal, recounting the negotiations since they were renewed April 26 after being broken off last fall.

He said the main issue is still the question of releasing all prisoners immediately after an armistice or leaving their fate hanging for the political conference to decide.

Harrison said the Red truce delegation is simply the "voice" of its governments and such a conference with these governments would be unlikely to agree if the negotiators themselves could not.

The Allies have insisted that the Red plan would give the prisoners a choice of only forced repatriation or indefinite imprisonment.

New Laws Signed By Gov. Williams

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams signed a new law forbidding Sunday sale of automobiles in Michigan's eight most populous counties even though there is a question of the constitutionality of the measure.

Attorney General Frank G. Millard, asked by the governor to study the bill, raised the constitutional doubts on the grounds that the new law does not apply uniformly throughout the state.

The governor commented, however, that overwhelming legislative votes in favor of the bill have "left no doubt of its desire to experiment with such an act."

The governor also signed bills to:

Permit the State Board of Athletic Control to issue free licenses for boxing and wrestling matches held for charitable purposes.

Permit law enforcement officers to confiscate punchboard prizes.

Permit local governments to employ full-time forestry commissioners and pay the proceeds of local forest into the general fund of the local government.

Exempt community hospitals from the provision that state land turned over to local governments must be put to public use within 10 years.

Provide that courts may not admit as evidence in civil actions the conviction of anyone for violation of local traffic ordinances.

In every rich drop, there's Vitamin D that aids normal growth and helps build strong bones and teeth. And Fairmont Homogenized Vitamin D Milk is accepted by the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association—added assurance that this milk is good milk!

CHICKEN BAKED IN MILK

- 1 Fairmont Frying Chicken, cut up
- 4 tablespoons Fairmont Butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups Fairmont Milk

Place chicken pieces in buttered baking dish, skin side up. Melt butter, add flour, salt and pepper, and mix well. Add milk and cook until thick. Pour over chicken and bake in moderate oven at 350°F for 1 1/2 hours, or until chicken is tender and lightly browned. If gravy has curdled during cooking, remove chicken, add a little blended milk and flour, stir until smooth, return chicken and reheat. Garnish with parsley and serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Video Hampered In U. S. Cold War

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP) — A Voice of America executive says the State Department has been hampering television as a propaganda weapon against communism.

An independent radio engineer adds that unless the U. S. government moves quickly to expand its lead in video it will find itself behind Communist countries in the use of TV in the cold war.

The subject of television and propaganda came up yesterday during the second of three days of public hearings here by a U. S. Senate foreign relations subcommittee, which has been investigating the State Department information program.

Nothing Done
Richard W. Hubbell, TV director of the Voice, told the senators that "to put it very bluntly, the State Department has been paying lip service to the idea of international television while doing virtually nothing about it."

He said this means "we have been missing opportunities in a number of countries," and added: "Our television activities have been confined to the most limited things, given a very low priority and blocked at every turn. Virtually all the worthwhile things have been done despite opposition, without clear-cut authority and certainly without encouragement."

The Voice is part of the State Department.
Hubbell suggested a $350,000 a year budget for Voice TV, saying this amount would enable it to service the world.

Russia Goes Ahead
Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia), subcommittee chairman, told the witness: "I wonder if you're not a bit optimistic about a world-wide service on a $325,000 budget."

William S. Halstead, president of Unital Inc., a private telecommunications engineering firm, also testified. Both Halstead and Hubbell said the U. S. was losing ground in the international TV field.

Hubbell said Soviet Russia is building a TV transmitter in East Germany to blanket almost all Germany and parts of five adjacent nations. Halstead said Russia and her satellites are rushing completion of microwave transmitters linking Europe and Asia.

Lanza Ends Legal Fight With Studio

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The litigation between MGM studio and singer Mario Lanza has been ended by an agreement concerning disposition of his records for the movie "The Student Prince," the studio says.

The recordings, made before he and MGM reached an impasse over his appearance in the film, will be used in the picture, but an actor to be designated later will play the principal role. The tenor was sued for $5,195,000 damages by MGM after he failed to report for the filming.

The settlement, effected yesterday, ends all litigation between the parties, MGM said.

Dentists Of Future May Use Sound Waves

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The Roanoke Times says Navy dentists are conducting experiments which some day may make it possible for the family dentist to grind teeth painlessly with sound waves.

The Times reports experiments at the National Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md., have not progressed far yet although two anesthetized dogs have had teeth ground and prepared for fillings by a beam of high frequency sound waves.

Old Quarrel Revived As Admiral Heads U.S. Chiefs Of Staff

By ELTON C. FAY
(P) Military Reporter
WASHINGTON (P)—The revamped military high command, headed by an admiral, is to take a new look at an old quarrel between the Navy and Air Force over wartime roles.

Secretary of Defense Wilson let it be known in replying to news conference questions about appointments to the Joint Chiefs of Staff announced by President Eisenhower Tuesday.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford will be chairman of the Joint Chiefs.

Brass Put On Spot
The quarrel among the armed forces over roles and missions and over giant bombers vs. giant aircraft carriers had put several people on the spot during the controversy. A chief of naval operations was ousted. A Navy secretary resigned.

Out of a series of meetings emerged in 1949 what the Pentagon calls the "Key West agreement." It gave as one of the primary functions of the Air Force responsibility for strategic air warfare the systematic bombing of an enemy's war production centers and transportation to destroy the capability to continue a war.

The Navy was given among its "collateral functions" the assignment to support other services in carrying out their primary functions and "to be prepared to participate in the over-all effort as directed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Not Happy In Role
Radford, who was among top Navy officials in the dispute over missions and of the subsequent quarrel over B-36 bombers and big carriers, told Congress he agreed the Air Force should have primary responsibility for strategic bombing.

But Radford was not happy about assignment of naval air power to a collateral role.

Radford, a lusty fighter for the Navy cause, is taking the place of Gen. Omar Bradley who, during the controversy in which the Navy fiercely opposed building a fleet of big B-36 bombers, finally became exasperated and denounced "fancy Duns" in the Navy.

Radford will have an entirely new roster of Joint Chiefs members. Eisenhower chose Adm. Robert Carney to be chief of naval operations to replace Adm. William F. Fechteler. Carney is North Atlantic Treaty commander in Southern Europe.

Gruenther Runs NATO

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, now supreme commander in Europe, was named to replace Gen. J. Lawton Collins as Army Chief of staff. Collins' and Bradley's terms expire in August. The White House had previously announced that Gen. Nathan Twining would replace Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, who asked for retirement as Air Force chief of staff about July 1.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther replaces Ridgway as NATO commander.

Senate confirmation for all of them seemed assured.

Seized Autos Bring $678.50 At Auction; Storage Bill $1,939

DECATUR, Ill. (P)—During the last year, city police collected 25 automobiles and one truck in the course of various investigations.

Unclaimed, they remained on the Decatur Auto Wrecking Company lot, operated by Charles Palmer.

At a public auction Tuesday, the cars were sold, netting the city $678.50.

But as city representatives left—cash in hand—Palmer presented them with a storage bill. It was for $1,939.25.

Leonard May Run

GRAND MARAIS (P)—Donald S. Leonard, Detroit police commissioner, said "many state Republicans" have asked him to run for governor again next year. However he did not say whether he intends to do so. The former state police commissioner spoke at a meeting of the Grand Rapids chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Fayette

Miss Joan Pizzala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pizzala, has been dismissed from Pinecrest Sanatorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis DeVet of Lansing were here on business last weekend and visited with relatives in Fairport.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Peterson were his mother and sister, Mrs. Emma Peterson and Mrs. Jack Leonard of Manistique.

Mrs. Edwin Wessel Sr., and son Edwin are now living in their summer home at Sack Bay.

A grass fire in Sack Bay of unknown origin threaten the property of the Elliot farm Saturday evening but was put under control with the assistance of Edwin Wessel and Howard Gierke.

Perch fishing was enjoyed by more than 100 people in Fayette Sunday.

Although the weather did not permit the children in Fairport to pick bouquets of hepatica or mayflowers on May Day and deliver to each home as has been the tradition of this community, they certainly have been able to pick a variety of flowers since. Hepatica are all open now with adder-tongues, dutchman breeches and trilliums filling the woods with exquisite beauty.

Howard Gierke, supervisor, attended the following meetings: Delta County finance committee meeting held at the Court House in Escanaba; telephone meeting held at the Alger Co-Op in Gladstone, Friday evening, Road Commission meeting held at Wells Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stern were called to Imlay City Friday by the sudden death of Mr. Stern's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lang left Saturday to attend the funeral services for Mr. Stern at Imlay City.

Mrs. Lang is a niece of Mr. Stern.

Painting Bee

The men of Congregational Church had a painting bee on Saturday and painted the church. Members of the Women's Fellowship served a dinner at noon. The men who worked were Howard Gierke, Fred Lang, Orville Farley, Cecil Laux, Roy Laux, Henry Jacobsen and Rev. G. Bowen.

Mrs. Alice Fagan of Van Dyke, Wis. spent the weekend at the Herbert Pizzala home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swanson and children and Mrs. Glen Thill motored to Lower Michigan Friday. Mrs. Thill is spending the week in Detroit with her husband. The Swansons returned Tuesday.

They visited her parents in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd St. Ours returned to their home here after spending the past several months in Detroit.

FEED GRAIN EARLY

It is a good practice to continue feeding grain on early spring pasture, because the milk production will be higher and the test lower. High production will be maintained longer and the cows will not lose so much weight as when they get nothing but pasture with its watery spring grass.

Hyde

HYDE—Mr. and Mrs. James F. Johnson and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verner Johnson at Brampton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lindquist, Mrs. Ed Sutherland and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindquist visited Mr. and Mrs. Nels Lindquist at Marquette Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kositzke Sr., Mrs. Charles Kositzke Jr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson of Gladstone motored to Green Bay on business Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Liedtke and Mrs. Alex Muther visited Mr. Muther at Pinecrest Sanatorium, Powers, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Donahue and Mary Hillwaert also visited him recently.

St. Lawrence Power Project Gets Lift

WASHINGTON (P)—An initial decision by a Federal Power Commission examiner gave fresh lift to New York state's hopes that it may soon join with Canada in construction of a huge St. Lawrence river power project. Examiner Glen R. Law, in a decision that is subject to review by the commission, directed that the power authority of New York be granted a 50-year license to build the American half of the estimated 600 million dollar project and to share equally in the estimated 12 billion kilowatt-hour annual output.

Buy and Sell the Classified Way

Higher Postage Rates Foreseen

WASHINGTON (P)—A request to Congress for higher postage rates on newspapers, magazines and advertising material appeared to be in the offing.

Postmaster General Summerfield, without saying so flatly, indicated to a House appropriations subcommittee that studies now being made pointed towards a recommendation for higher rates on second and third-class matter, "for a temporary period of at most two years."

Summerfield also indicated, in testimony made public Tuesday, he would not be adverse to an arrangement under which the postmaster general, rather than Congress, would fix postal rates.

The department has a current annual deficit of 642 million dollars and, he said, expects to run 600 million in the red next fiscal year.

He said only first-class mail and the postal savings system show profits.

Inland Steel Head To Be U. M. Speaker

ANN ARBOR (P)—Clarence B. Randall, the new chairman of the board of Inland Steel Co., will be the speaker at the University of Michigan 109th commencement here June 13.

Randall, a Harvard graduate and a former attorney in Ishpeming, joined Inland Steel in 1925. He was named to the board April 29 and has been company president for four years.

The commencement is scheduled for 5:30 p. m. in Michigan Stadium.

Lansing Man Loses Weight I Lost 40 Lbs. With Rennel and Did It Without Dieting

Rennel Concentrate is as effective for men as it is for women and just as necessary. Smart men and women who are overweight do not stay fat. They do something about it. Excessive fat makes people unhealthy, unattractive and handicaps success. No one can afford these risks. The Rennel Home Recipe gets results and takes off fat safely. One of the many men Rennel users John Shultz, 737 Comfort St., Lansing 13, Mich., writes, "I am still taking Rennel and am so pleased with the results. I started taking your product last fall when I weighed 200 lbs. In three months I took off 40 lbs., have held that weight ever since and did not diet at any time. I eat three good meals a day, enjoy my work and now find it much easier to do. My sister uses Rennel and is getting good results." Your drug store has liquid Rennel. 'Billion - Dollar Mermaid' To Seek Sunken Treasure

It's not a real mermaid—it's a 3300-pound metal robot and its name is Archie. But the billion dollars is real, all right, says, Archie's inventor and builder, William E. Denny, Kansas City, Kan., building contractor. The treasure is in gold and other valuable cargo in sunken ships that nobody has ever been able to salvage. Denny thinks that Archie can get it for him. Archie was built at a basic cost of $120,000 and 18 months' work. Details of Archie's construction and performance are seen in sketch at left, which shows not Archie, but his brother-to-be, Buster, a second robot that Denny is building. Archie has a big advantage over human divers. They can descend only 200 feet or so and work for very short periods. Archie can go down 2500 feet and work 24 hours a day if necessary. The robot can operate all kinds of tools. He can pick up an egg without breaking it and he can take a stout 2x4 and mash it into matchwood with one crunch of his powerful claw. In photo above, Denny holds a piece of 2x4 while Archie crushes it. Engineers who have watched preliminary tests say that Archie is practical. Final deep water tests will be made this summer and the first salvage attempt will be made off the coast of Massachusetts in August or September.

Hermansville

School Forest Trip

HERMANSVILLE — Around 75 high school students visited the school forest Friday, May 8, on an all day field trip. The main part of the day was spent inspecting the trees which were planted three years ago. The remainder of the time was spent collecting specimens of flowers and moss for the exhibits the science and biology students are having. The group returned to the school at 2:30 on the school busses driven by Ernest Schultz and Fred Gamache.

The students were treated to a lunch out in the forest by the hot lunch department, prepared by Mrs. Harold Allen and served by several girls.

The group was chaperoned on the trip, which was a gift to the high school of the Bonifas Lumber Company, by Mrs. Henry Lombard, John Kuhnenn and Jack Kleimola.

Pre-Nuptial Shower

Thirty women of the community attended the pre-nuptial shower for Miss Betty Gere, Saturday evening at St. Mary's Church hall. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Virgil Malone, Mrs. Snorre Holle and Mrs. Cal Jasken. The hall was attractively decorated in pink and blue and the gift tables were centered by bride dolls. Games were played followed by lunch. Miss Gereau, who was presented with a red rose corsage, was assisted in opening of the gifts by the hostesses. She will be to Theodore Peterson June 6 at St. Mary's Church. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Ray Peterson and Mrs. Francis Jasken of Appleton and Mrs. Al Burks of Burbank.

Large Attendance At Bethany Mother, Daughter Party

Over 300 attended the annual mother and daughter party sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society at the Bethany Lutheran Church on Wednesday evening. The tables were attractively decorated with red geraniums, white tapers, and special memento program booklets made for the occasion.

Mrs. A. E. Hendricksen, president, presided as chairman for the evening. Mrs. Gustaf Anderson offered devotions. Miss Hazel Lindholm accompanied by Miss Norma Latola sang "O Happy Home."

A skit "Reminiscences of Girlhood" written and directed by Mrs. A. V. Aronson followed. In this skit a daughter writes a Mother's Day letter to her mother reminding her of many of the events which took place in her girlhood both in her home and at "Bethany". Girls ranging in ages from 3 to 18 took part in the skit acting out in review the memories which were recalled.

Memories of Childhood

To represent the early phase of childhood, Margaret Ann Lund said her first prayer. Four nursery children, Marietta Carlson, Mary Larson, Christine Nyquist, and Joanne Petersen sang "Jesus Loves Me" and "Rock-a-Bye" to their dolls. A group of four, Carol Johnson, Martha Vanderlinden, Jean Anderson, and Sandra Makinen appearing on their first Christmas program, spoke Christmas pieces and sang "Away In A Manger" and "Silent Night." Their accompanist was Charlotte Holmes.

Reviewed in memory was the packing of a Christmas box for a needy war orphan in Finland. Nadia Rutwisch and Karen Dahlbeck acted out this scene.

In the next age group, Joan Hansen accompanied by Sandra Sundstrom played a flute solo "Melody in F," and a quartette Jean Petersen, Jean Aronson, Gail Anderson, and Donna Peterson accompanied by Ruth Anderson sang, "The Temple Bells".

A group of three, Lois Hendricksen, Helen Olson, and Barbara Costley in white confirmation robes recited the "Creed" and sang their Confirmation hymn, "Beautiful Saviour".

Senior Age Group

Five girls represented the Senior age group. Mary Nelson accompanied by Joanne LaCombe played a violin solo "Traumerei". Mary Jo Decker, Ann Aronson, and Ruth Jensen in a conversational manner reviewed the trip they had taken two years ago to the National Lutheran Youth convention in Colorado Springs.

The skit closed with the mother played by Mrs. A. V. Aronson offering a prayer for all mothers and all children.

The audience accompanied by Barbara Anderson opened and closed the program with the singing of appropriate hymns.

Corsages were presented to the youngest mother present Mrs. Ormal Wellman and to the oldest mother Mrs. Lena Carlson.

A social hour followed with the serving of refreshments.

Highland Opening Dinner Sunday

The Highland Golf Club opening dinner of the season will be served Sunday, March 17 at 1 p. m. at the club house. Mixed foursomes will follow the dinner. Reservations which must be in by tonight may be made by calling the club house.

Dr. Towey Leaves For National Conference In West

POWERS-SPALDING—Dr. and Mrs. John Towey and daughter Pat left Wednesday evening for Los Angeles where they will attend the National Tuberculosis Association convention May 18-22. Dr. Towey is a member of the board of directors. The family will make the trip by plane.

To Attend Conference

William Sharon, superintendent of the Powers-Spalding School and a group of members of the board of education will attend the Upper Peninsula Area Conference for school board members and superintendents to be held at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, Friday, under the sponsorship of the Michigan Association of School Boards, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Charles Johnson spent Sunday visiting in Manistique with relatives and friends. Mrs. Johnson visited her mother, Mrs. Albert Mulhaupt.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shannon left Wednesday morning for Chicago on business.

Miss Agnes Rice of Milwaukee and Mrs. Robert Laws of Kingsford visited friends at Pinecrest.

A bowl of fresh fruit makes a fine dessert for a meal when it's served with fresh dates, clusters of raisins, and roasted walnuts. To roast the walnuts put a pound of them in their shells in a shallow pan; heat in a moderate oven for about half an hour before they are to be served.

GOLDEN WEDDING—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ehlers of 112 S. 13th St. will celebrate their golden wedding Saturday, May 16. A highlight of the observance will be a reception for relatives and friends which will be held at 8 p. m. at Central Methodist Church. With them for the occasion will be members of their family, their two daughters, Mrs. Lowell (Mae) Pellow of Marquette, Mrs. Iven (Beatrice) Kell of Wilson, their son, Ronald Ehlers at home, their two grandchildren and two great grandchildren. ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor to Her Majesty

VIII

It is usually the wife who spreads oil on the troubled waters of a marriage. She likes to hear her husband praised, hates to feel a tension growing in her house when he is cross or short with visitors, as may well happen if he is not well. Men are very vocal about their aches and pains.

How much greater is the strain on a Royal wife! I have a deep admiration for Prince Philip as a grown man. He has qualities I greatly admire, but many of them are not fashioned for Court use. He is frank and outspoken, keen to be on with the next thing, and impatient of flattery. He hates unnecessary fuss and all publicity.

The fanfare which heralds his every move now must be torture to him. But it was the small price he gladly paid for marrying the woman he loved—to step out of the cheerful, semi-obscurity of the Navy into the brightest spotlight the world has ever known.

But one sometimes forgets. It is then that the wife has to step forward and smooth the path. Like her mother, Queen Elizabeth has this quality of sympathetic tact, highly developed.

"Come on, darling," her eyes seem to say. "Stick it just a little while longer."

In Public Eye

Few who have not seen the effect it may have can appreciate the strain of always living in the public eye. When you or I marry we make our arrangements in private, marry among our friends and relatives, and honeymoon quietly in the place of our choice. But for Royalty things are never so simple.

Princess Elizabeth's engagement period was an exhausting time for her. There were so many things to attend to that she simply had to break off sometimes.

Even before the engagement, when nothing had been decided, the Princess had many uncomfortable moments in public when she overheard remarks about a possible "love match."

But at last everything was decided. The arrangements for the wedding brought great activity to the Palace and these too were things of public interest.

Even while on their honeymoon Princess Elizabeth and Prince

Philip were pestered by photographers and curious tourists who made special journeys to try to catch a glimpse of them.

It was not until they at last got up to Birkhall, a house belonging to the King near Balmoral, that they were able to be really alone.

Native Courtesy

It was winter, and snow was on the ground. Princess Elizabeth wrote me a charming letter. The countryside was lovely, she said, far more beautiful than it had been when we were up there at about the same time of year at the beginning of the war. They had a new puppy, Rummy, with them, who was enjoying himself romping about in the snow.

It must have been a happy time for them, left completely alone together for the first time in their lives.

But that particular kind of "being alone" happiness could not last long; soon they were back in the center of things, doing their great work in the world.

It has become much easier for me to see the Princess as a person since I left the Palace and began my married life in the first home of my own I have ever had. What matters most to all of us now is the character of the woman, who, by the grace of God, now guides the destiny of many lands.

How often we see her smiling! Her smile is as much part of her as her lovely complexion and the features that startlingly recall to most people the pictures of the great Queen Victoria when she was young.

Resemblance to Aunt

I see other resemblances as well. She is very like her aunt, Lady Rose Granville, who had a home at Dunfermline, not far from my mother's house.

Later, Lady Rose and her husband moved to London and took a pleasant, narrow house at 100 Park Street, where I used to go when I felt the need of peace and quiet.

Lady Rose was understanding. She knew how greatly I missed my Scottish hills, and how I liked

Library Group To Attend District Meeting Saturday

Members of the staff of Carnegie Public Library, headed by Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas, librarian, and two representatives of the board of trustees, Mrs. A. M. Gilbert and Charles Folio will attend the meeting of District 7 of the Michigan Library Association which comprises the Upper Peninsula, at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, Saturday.

The library staff in addition to Mrs. Thomas includes Miss Winifred Harvey, Mrs. John A. Owens, Mrs. Kenneth G. Jensen and Miss Elizabeth Jacobson.

Mr. Folio will be discussion leader for the forum on the state aid question at the meeting.

The Carnegie Library will be closed throughout the day and evening to permit attendance of the staff at the conference.

A film on first aid in accident cases entitled "Help Wanted" was shown by Miss Hilma Asikainen RN at Tuesday evening's dinner meeting of the Escanaba Business and Professional Woman's Club at the Sherman Hotel. Newly elected officers were installed by Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas.

Chemical PTA Meeting

Members of the Chemical School PTA met Tuesday evening at the school. The program included a talk by Glen Leonard on "Traffic in the Home", vocal solos by Patsy Lindstrom of Escanaba, and a mother's program, given by the first three grades. Lunch was served by Mrs. Vern Vanderville, Mrs. John Wery, Mrs. William Pintal and Mrs. Fred Michaud.

Club Luncheon Reservations Will Close Saturday

Reservations for the Escanaba Woman's Club luncheon Wednesday, May 20, at 1 p. m. at the House of Ludington, will close Saturday. They must be made with Mrs. John Lasnoski, chairman of the telephone committee, or Mrs. J. J. Poffenberger. The luncheon is the closing event of the Woman's Club calendar for the year.

sometimes to be alone.

She gave me a latchkey to the house. "Use the place whenever you wish," she said in her charming, soft voice, so like the Queen's. "It may not bring you the heather, but at least you will be quiet here."

Lady Rose is one of the most beautiful women I have ever seen. Even in middle age her skin is perfect. The artist Laszlo has captured it in a portrait which hung over the drawing room fireplace of the London house.

I knew that picture long ago when Queen Elizabeth was a child. Even then how like she was to her aunt! And as the child grew up she resembled more and more the lovely woman of the picture, with gracious, curving neck and shining, candle - clear complexion—an almost ethereal skin, through which the warmth of health seems to shine.

Firm To Advise City On Light Plant Bonds

Allison and Williams, firm of investment bankers of Minneapolis, have been engaged by the City of Gladstone to advise the city, set up the bond schedule and sell the bonds, should the voters of the City of Gladstone decide to build an electric generating plant. Approval was given at a regular City Commission meeting this week.

Attorneys for the firm will prepare the proper ordinance in connection with the project and this will be introduced and date of public hearing set at an early meeting of the commission, it was indicated.

It is likely that a special election at which the voters of Gladstone will decide whether or not to construct a municipal plant will be held the later part of June.

If the proposal to build and issue revenue bonds to finance the construction is rejected the City of Gladstone is not obligated in any manner to the firm. If approved, they will be paid upon consummation of the bond sale.

Remuneration for their services is set at one-half of one per cent on the first million dollars in bonds sold and one-quarter of one per cent on the balance.

Concrete of Michigan Avenue from 14th to 15th streets was approved by the commission and public hearing on the project set for the next commission meeting.

Blacktopping of North Court from N. 7th to the Ford Property was discussed during the session.

PTA To Meet Monday Night

Installation of officers will mark the regular monthly meeting of the Central Parent-Teachers association Monday evening at 8 at the Gladstone High school assembly room.

Mrs. Floyd Anuta of Escanaba will be the installing officer.

In addition there will be selections by a girls' trio composed of Mary Jo Bolger, Mary Alice Cameron and Louise Klug, a demonstration of a film projector purchased for the school by the PTA and a movie entitled "Make Way for Youth" pertaining to recreation for the young.

The lunch committee is composed of mothers of kindergarten pupils including the Mmes Bernard DeHooghe, William Sundling, Harold Ebbesen, Fred Burch, Alvin Bjorklund and Roy Hawkins.

Briefly Told

Bake Sale—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Memorial Methodist Church is sponsoring a bake sale Saturday from 10 to 5 at the Siebert Hardware.

Garden Students Will Visit Fort Mackinac Saturday

GARDEN—The sixth, seventh and eighth grade students will leave Garden very early next Saturday morning for a field trip to Mackinac Island. It is their wish to combine education and pleasure as much as possible so each student and guest is taking his own picnic lunch. The students have worked very hard all year to build up their treasury for this occasion. All teachers of the Catherine Bonifas School have been invited to make the trip.

Spring Class Party—The upper grade students of the Garden School held a spring class party in the school building. Following the usual party games a lunch was served and the rest of the evening was spent in square dancing. Calls for the dances were given by Mrs. Alpha Thibault. Teachers of all grades were guests of the students.

Chinese Couple Wed In Lone Star State

WACO, Tex. (AP)—They had a Chinese wedding—complete with fireworks instead of rice—on the staid campus of Baptist-operated Baylor University.

Miss Grace Wang, Baylor school of nursing student, married Dr. Daniel Han, resident physician at a hospital here. The wedding climaxed a romance which began as childhood friendship in China.

Traditional Chinese wedding customs prevailed at the wedding. The principals wore Chinese clothing. Altar decorations were in red. Firecrackers popped as the couple left the church.

HUGE SUNSPOT

Largest sunspot ever observed appeared in January, 1947, and covered an area of 6,300,000,000 square miles, or about 30 times the surface of the earth.

Welfare Club Social Monday

The spring social of the Child's Welfare Club is to be held Monday afternoon at the Gladstone Golf club, it is learned from Mrs. Bernard Prusak, club president.

Serving of a dessert luncheon at 1:30 will mark the opening of the meeting, the last scheduled for the current fiscal year.

Election of officers and reading of annual reports will mark the business session following the luncheon.

All persons who participated in the bridge marathon sponsored during winter months by the club are invited to attend the gathering.

Forming the committee for the afternoon are the Mmes. Charles Burton, James Dehlin, Gus Dehlin, Harold Sjoquist, Reuben Sjoquist, Albert Buckman, Hilding Norstrom, O. C. D'Amour, Maurice Anderson, R. J. Rains, G. K. Lierman, Henry Cassidy, M. J. Neveaux, B. H. Skellenger, Claude Hawkins, W. H. Willis, A. B. Ellingson and Roy Hawkins and Miss Helen Erickson.

Rock Class Night Program Varied And Interesting

ROCK—In spite of the cold evening, an unusually large number of parents, relatives and friends attended the class night exercises Tuesday evening at the gymnasium of the Rock High School.

Many a chuckle was heard when the class prophecy was read and portrayed by the Seniors. The thoughtfulness of the Senior class members was illustrated when they presented their class adviser, George Kulack, with a special gift, a gold pocket watch with "Graduating Class of '53, Rock, Michigan" engraved on the back of it.

Their gift to the school will long be remembered, a beautiful green divan and chair to watch with removable plastic covers.

Open House At School

Before the program, it was open house at the school. It is an annual event when anyone interested is welcome to visit the different rooms and exhibits. The teachers for the lower grades were in their respective rooms until the program. This is an excellent opportunity for the teachers and parents to meet and chat awhile. Some of the displays were amazing and how proud the youngsters were to show what they have accomplished during the year.

The projects from the shop were on exhibit on one side of the gymnasium. From the looks of the projects, Mr. N. Winn has some very capable carpenters in his shop and some homes will boast of some fine end tables and other small furniture.

The other high school faculty and displays were in the new science room upstairs. This was the first time many of the parents had the chance to visit the new science room. It is also used for agriculture and physics experiments. It is a spacious, well arranged room with windows all along the east wall. There are plenty of cupboards and tables for work space.

Aquarium Attracts Many
One can spend hours watching the many kinds of tropical fish and plant life in the large aquarium on one side of the room. It has been reported that the aquarium has been doing very well, none of the fish have been lost.

A modern, well equipped superintendents office is at the end of the north hall. These two rooms were just completed last fall.

Maple Ridge Cancer Drive Completed

ROCK—The Maple Ridge Township fund drive for the American Cancer Society has been completed reports Mrs. Walter Manntie, Maple Ridge Township chairman. The total sum of $233.10 has been collected and turned in to the bank.

Hospital Authority To Be Organized Tonight

A hospital authority, necessary before application can be made to the Michigan Bureau of Hospital Survey and Construction for assistance in construction of a hospital in Gladstone, will be formed at a meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 in the City Hall. It is learned from H. T. Brewer, chairman of the hospital committee.

Several of the townships have sent in the names of their representative on the authority and others will be in before this evening. The Gladstone Commission will have a representative to be named by Mayor Michael LaPine upon his return to Gladstone and the City of Escanaba commission has promised to name a member.

"We have sufficient names now and will definitely organize an authority at the meeting," Chairman Brewer stated. "We'll be going in fine shape after Thursday night's meeting," the chairman continued. "The attitude of the whole county is good and I'm very much encouraged at the prospects. However, we're going to need plenty of help. Ten men can't do it. We'll need two hundred active workers."

Every person interested in the construction of a hospital in Gladstone is invited to tonight's meeting.

Women Foresters Invited To Visit Spalding Court

Sacred Heart Court 186, WCOF, has received an invitation to the Clover Association Meeting which is being held in Spalding on June 2. St. Agnes Court 974 of Spalding is the hostess court.

The meeting will open at 1:00 p. m., followed by benediction and a program. A banquet will be served at 6:00 p. m. All functions will be on Eastern Standard Time. The meeting and the banquet will be held at the Powers-Spalding High school.

All members of the local Foresters who are planning on attending are asked to have their reservation. Mrs. Joseph Martin by May 23.

Two Boys Head Senior Class Honor Students

Two boys are scholastic leaders of the 1953 graduating class at Manistique high school, it was revealed yesterday by Carl Olson, principal, in announcing senior honor students.

Robert T. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Nelson, is class valedictorian, and Warren E. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wilson, is salutatorian.

Nelson, who plans to enter the University of Michigan next fall as an engineering student, has had wide participation in extra-curricular activities in addition to maintaining a high scholarship standing. Included are football, basketball, track, bowling, band and Hi-Y club.

He was Hi-Y president this year and vice president of the Upper Peninsula Older Boys Conference in 1952. He also is senior class and Student Association president this year and served as treasurer of the Bowling League for Boys during the past season.

He has won major letters and three bars in football, major letters in forensics, major letters and three bars in band, and minor letters in basketball, football and debate.

Wilson besides being a top student has been one of the high school's outstanding athletes. Highest scoring member of the 1953 class B championship basketball team, he received wide acclaim as a member of the team's "big three" who contributed so much to the team's phenomenal record of 19 straight victories and district and U. P. championships. He also was a member of the Great Lakes Conference championship football team last fall.

Other extra-curricular activities included track, band and dramatics. He was band president this year, boys' representative on the Student Association during the past year, class vice president and Hi-Y treasurer last year.

Wilson plans to pursue a course in chemical engineering following graduation.

Other four-year honor students are:

Lois Jean Foye Is Recent Bride Of Harley Nelson

Miss Lois Jean Foye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Foye, 508 Michigan Ave., became the bride of Harley Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Larson, 446 Delta Ave., at a ceremony performed May 9 in the parsonage of St. Francis de Sales Church with the Rev. F. M. Scheringer officiating. The bride was attired in a beige colored suit with purple accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Kenneth Smith Jr., the bride's only attendant, wore a pink suit with beige accessories and a pink and white carnation corsage. Maurice Ekberg served as best man.

Mrs. Foye attended her daughter's wedding in a navy print dress. Mrs. Larson, the groom's mother, wore a navy street length dress. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow roses.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. A reception was held in the afternoon from 2 to 4 at the bride's parents' home. The couple left later on a wedding trip to Milwaukee. They will make their home at 643 Arbutus Ave.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique high school. The groom also graduated from the local high school and at present is employed as machinist at the Manistique Tool and Manufacturing Company plant.

Out-of-town relatives and friends attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foye Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foye Jr., of Marquette; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Groleau, of Berkley; Mr. and Mrs. Louis McLeod, of Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Alec McLeod and Mrs. Anna Gray, of Garden; and Miss Dawn McNamara, of Green Bay.

Bethel Young People

The Senior Young People of the Bethel Baptist Church enjoyed a hike and weiner roast at the Martinson cottage Monday evening.

The occasion was a farewell party for Robert Carlson who will leave soon for the army.

Handy Hands

Mrs. Mildred Lowery was hostess to the Handy Hands Club of the Home Demonstration Group Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Hazel Whitman, 800 Arbutus Ave.

A short business meeting was held at which plans were made for the annual achievement day at Lincoln school. The club's annual trip to Escanaba Wednesday, May 20, also was discussed. A social evening followed after which refreshments were served. Guests of the club were Mrs. Bert Riley and Mrs. Charles Nelson.

Study Club

The Tuesday Study Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. E. J. Thompson, Arbutus Ave.

Mrs. John Moffat reviewed the book, "Cyclone in Calico" by Brown. The current events were given by Mrs. Stephen Johnson.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Talks Highlight Achievement Day

Talks by Miss Irma Saven, district home demonstration agent, Mrs. Leona McLeod, Michigan State home demonstration leader, and Mrs. H. Keith Bundy featured the annual spring achievement program of Schoolcraft Home Demonstration groups Tuesday evening at Lincoln school.

Miss Saven showed slides of Camp Shaw, Chatham, and urged that as many women as possible attend the camp June 22-26. She also directed attention to the Homemakers Conference in Lansing July 20-24 and the Upper Peninsula State Fair demonstrations and exhibits.

An interesting and informative talk on the United Nations was presented by Mrs. Bundy who said that much of the criticism of UN is based on lack of understanding and knowledge of the organization's policies.

She stressed that the UN is the one hope of holding the world together and is deserving of careful study and support.

Home demonstration groups are not only local, but are national and international in scope, it was pointed out by Mrs. McLeod. It is the largest adult educational group in the world with a million and a half women enrolled, she said.

Entertainment, under the supervision of the Manistique Heights group, included group singing led by Mrs. Walter Busch, with accompaniment by Mrs. Vivian Auvinen, and two vocal duets by Yvonne Freeland and Carolyn Nelson.

A brief business meeting also was held, with Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor, county chairman, presiding. The groups voted to form a Schoolcraft County Emergency Committee to operate through the Alger-Schoolcraft Health Department when needs arose.

It was announced at the session that Mrs. Frank Arrowhead had been chosen as Upper Peninsula delegate to the Country Women of the World conference at Toronto, Can., in August. Mrs. Arrowood spoke briefly on the work of the organization and the number of countries represented in it.

Exhibits by each county group were arranged at the Lincoln gym. They represented lessons given during the past year.

Pot luck was served at the close of the session, with Friendship group in charge of making coffee.

Permanent Tax Rates Approved

Tentative tax rate allocations, set last week by the Schoolcraft County Tax Allocation Board, were revised by the board when it approved a permanent rate structure at a meeting here Tuesday.

In adopting final rates the board reduced the preliminary school allocation from 5.5 to 5 mills and increased the county rate from 9.5 to 10 mills.

Can Walcott Succeed Where All Others Have Failed?

Jack Dempsey has just floored Gene Tunney in the seventh round of their title match in Chicago, Sept. 22, 1927. Referee Dave Barry, motioning the Manassa Mauler to a neutral corner, refused to start the count until Jack obeyed. This is the famous "long count." Tunney got up at nine, weathered the round and held on to the title.

(AP Newsfeature)

NEW YORK—Since the turn of the century, eight former heavyweight champions have sought to regain boxing richest crown.

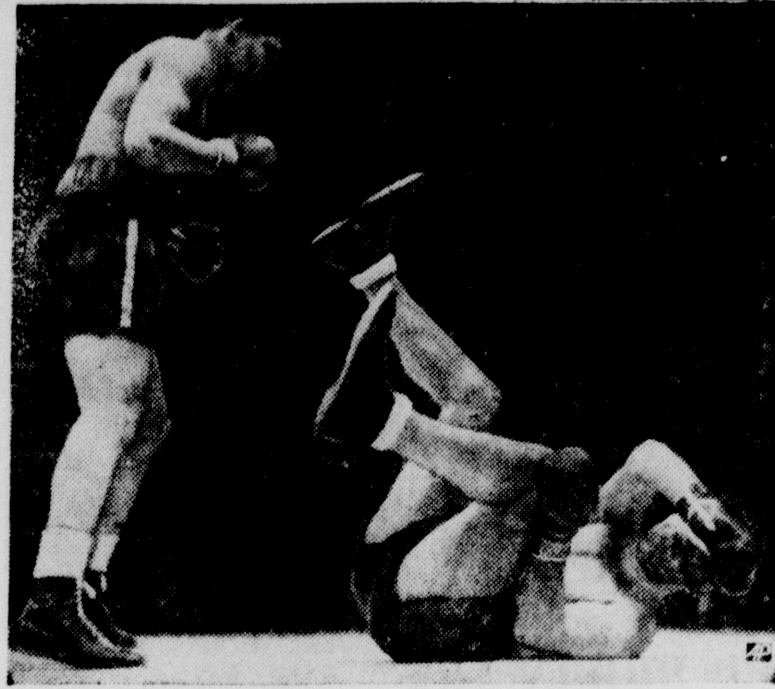

Jersey Joe Walcott, the dark Cinderella of the ring, will be the ninth with such an idea when he steps in the Chicago Stadium ring to meet champion Rocky Marciano on Friday, May 15.

First to make an effort to win back a title was Jim Corbett. In 1900 he was stopped by Jim Jeffries in 23 rounds at Coney Island.

In 1902 Bob Fitzsimmons sought to regain the crown but Jeffries stopped him in eight rounds in San Francisco.

In 1910, Jeffries came out of retirement at the age of 35. Jack Johnson spoiled his bid with a 15-round kayo in Reno.

In 1915 when there was much doubt about who was champion following Johnson's exile to Europe, Johnson sought to regain a clear-cut claim to the crown. He was stopped by Jess Willard in 25 rounds in Havana.

Here's the swift descent of ex-champion Max Schmeling. He is being floored by Joe Louis in their title go at Yankee Stadium, June 22, 1938. From the opening bell Louis launched a savage attack that sent Max sprawling to the canvas. Schmeling, attempting to win back the championship, lasted less than a round.

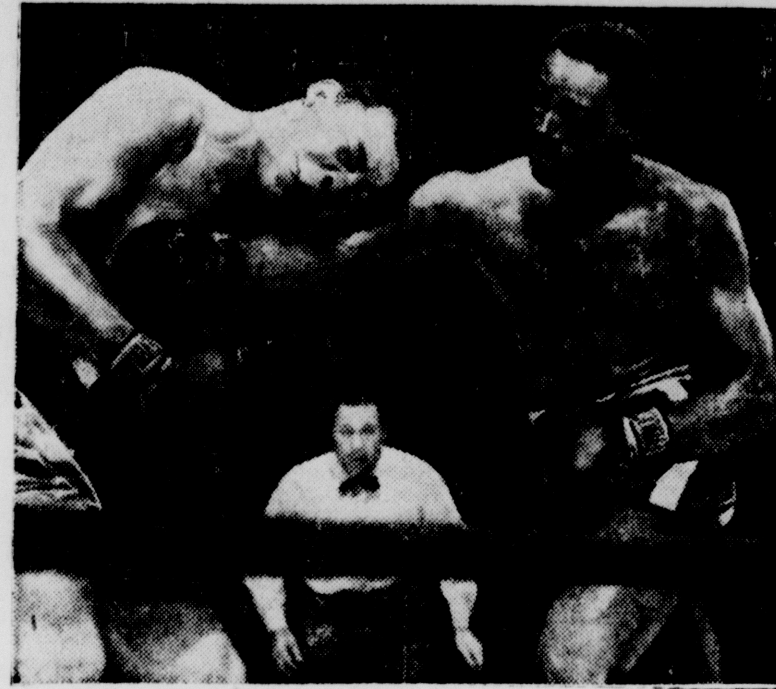

In modern ring warfare, Jack Dempsey, Max Schmeling, Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles all suffered setbacks when they tried to regain the big plum.

Dempsey came closest to regaining the championship. He was the victim of a long count that September night in 1927 when he knocked Gene Tunney to the canvas in the seventh round at Soldiers' Field, Chicago.

Dempsey refused to backtrack to a neutral corner and Referee Dave Barry refused to count. Some boxing experts said Tunney was down for 16 seconds. However, Gene got up before Barry's actual 10-count and boxed his way to a 15-round decision to retain the title. The bout drew 104,943 fans who paid a record $2,658,660.

In 1938, Schmeling, who had lost his crown on a foul to Jack Sharkey in 1932, thought he'd have an easy night the second time around with Louis. Max had beaten the Dark Destroyer in 1936 in the same Yankee Stadium ring.

But when Schmeling faced Louis in a return bout, Louis was primed for an early finish. He pummeled the German with both fists and knocked him cold in 2:04 of the first round.

In 1950 Louis came out of retirement but his speed and reflexes had been slowed and he lost to Charles in 15 rounds in Yankee Stadium.

And now we come to Walcott, the 39-year-old pappy from Merchantville, N. J.

The first time he fought for the title he deserved the decision over Louis. That was in 1947 in Madison Square Garden. Louis won a split decision. The majority of boxing experts thought Walcott had won. So did Referee Ruby Goldstein. But the judges voted for Louis. Louis was so disgusted that he attempted to leave the ring before the decision.

"I couldn't vote against Joe," one judge said. "He won his title the hard way and Walcott hit and ran."

Walcott next got a chance at the crown in 1949. He lost to Charles. Ezzard beat Joe again in March, 1951, in Detroit. It got to be so easy that Charles figured he'd give Walcott another chance. They met four months later in Pittsburgh and much to Joe Walcott, right, tosses a right and Ezzard Charles misses with a left in the seventh round of their championship bout at Philadelphia last June 5. The previous year Walcott KO'd Charles to capture the title. This time Charles, ever-fearful of Jersey Joe's power, fought timidly and couldn't retake the title.

Charles' regret Walcott knocked him out in seven rounds.

Thus, Walcott, though he knocked Louis down and puffed his eyes in 1947, had to wait almost four years before he won the title.

Last June, Walcott gave Charles a return bout in Philadelphia. But Ezzard, apparently aware of Jersey Joe's punch, remained in a shell most of the 15 rounds and Walcott got the decision.

Neither Walcott nor Marciano figure to go into a shell in this return meeting. When they fought in Philadelphia last September Marciano scored with a lightning right to the jaw and it was over in the 13 round.

But before that, Walcott had put Marciano down and was winning on points.

It figures to be a good fight. It also figures that Walcott, he's supposed to be past his prime, will be knocked out again. Marciano is a two-fisted puncher who can take it better than Joe. But, with Walcott, form never seems to run true. He has age against him but the law of averages are on his side.

Pete Kutches, ex-St. Joe Trojan athlete, was easily the outstanding performer in last Saturday's University of Wyoming spring intrasquad football game. Kutches starred at the tailback spot for the White squad which won the game, windup affair in spring practice, by a narrow 14-13 edge over the Gold squad. Kutches passed for one touchdown, carried to the five-yard line to set up the second and kicked both extra points. Kutches drew extremely high praise from new coach Phil Dickens.

Jim Greenwood, Bark River Bronco shortstop, is setting a terrific pace as leadoff man on coach Paul Wiinikainen's team. The speedy Greenwood is batting .643 with nine hits in 14 trips and has scored 15 runs in four games. The Broncos have won their first four baseball starts this season.

Cold weather threw a damper on twilight league golf play Tuesday night at both the Highland and Escanaba clubs. About 30 members were out at Highland and many of them took a wack at it. But only Ernie Desilets stuck with it through nine holes.

A couple of high school milers have turned in some fast clockings in their event already in the track season. Best of the lot is the 4:51.9 registered by DeLisle of Munising in the Great Lakes Conference at Manistique Saturday. And Ryanen of Painesdale sped the mile distance in a fast 4:53.6 to set a new record in the Copper Country Invitational. Escanaba Eskymo Dick Casey's best time to date meet is a 4:53.5, turned in at Marinette in last Saturday's triangular.

Set Final Plans For Amateur Mitt Program

Plans were completed this morning for Escanaba's first summer boxing show in many years, to be staged Saturday night, May 23, at the fairgrounds exhibition building.

The 10-bout boxing card will feature boxers from four fight centers in the Upper Peninsula. At least eight Escanaba boxers will be on the program with outstanding amateur leather-swingers from Manistique, Menominee-Marquette and the Marquette district.

The boxing card here is one of several which will be presented in the Upper Peninsula this summer. Boxing trainers from the U. P. are eager to promote summer boxing shows in order to build talent for the annual Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves championship tournament which is staged in January in Escanaba.

Fight managers from Manistique and Menominee this morning submitted lists of boxers who will be available for action in the show here next week. The program will include several Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves champions, and most of the fighters have seen action in Escanaba rings in the past.

Escanaba boxers who have been training for several weeks for the card include Ron Magnuson, John Connelly, Bob Bourdeau, Charlie Bellefeuille, Wayne Courier, Dean Kalishek, Ron Vanderlinden and Johnny Roberts.

Connelly is the U. P. novice featherweight GG champion. He will meet Manistique's Buddy Holmberg in a rematch. The two boys fought for the U. P. crown here in January with Connelly winning a close decision.

Two other rematches are scheduled for the card. Bob Bourdeau, Escanaba flyweight, will be seeking revenge for a knockout suffered to Manistique's Harry Nelson. And Johnny Roberts of Escanaba, 123 pounds, will try for his second win over Manistique's Carl Vertz.

The show is sponsored by the Escanaba Lions Club. An advance sale of reserved seat tickets will be made next week.

Don Bollweg Is New Fair-Haired Yankee

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Bollweg, 31-year-old rookie first baseman, became the new fair-haired boy at Yankee Stadium Wednesday with a spectacular all-around exhibition at bat yesterday.

With the Yankees trailing 4-0 and apparently handcuffed by Cleveland righthander Mike Garcia, Bollweg smashed a three-run homer in the fourth to put the New Yorkers back in the game. In the seventh, he belted a single to ignite a four-run rally that chased Garcia and paved the way for a 9-4 Yankee triumph.

Bollweg played because Joe Collins, regular Yankee first baseman, has a strained neck muscle.

Kalamazoo Cops Great Lakes Tennis Crown

BELOIT, Wis. (AP)—Winning both the singles and doubles titles, Kalamazoo College captured the Great Lakes Athletic Association Invitational Tournament here yesterday.

Kalamazoo amassed eight points. Beloit was second with six followed by Illinois Tech with three and Hope and Wabash with two each. Carroll and Lake Forest failed to score.

John Vos of Kalamazoo won the singles title and Dave Moran and Bob Casler gave the Hornets the doubles triumph.

Major League Teams Cut Rosters To 25

NEW YORK (AP)—Eighteen players who started the campaign with major league teams were back in the minors today, victims of the 25-player limit in the big time. Two others wore different uniforms.

From now until Sept. 1, each major league club is permitted only 25 players, plus up to five who are back for their first season after serving in the armed forces.

The New York Yankees optioned outfielder Bob Cerv to Kansas City of the American Association and infielders Jim Bredeweser and Frank Verdi to Syracuse of the International League.

Two Trade Deals

The Brooklyn Dodgers sent Dixie Howell, their bullpen catcher, to St. Paul of the American Association and optioned outfielder Dick Williams to Montreal of the International League.

There were only two deals involving major league teams. In one, the Pittsburgh Pirates sold catcher Eddie Fitzgerald to the Washington Senators for an undisclosed amount of cash and a couple of pitchers for minor league teams.

The other involved catcher Hank Foiles, whom the Cincinnati Reds sold to Cleveland in a straight cash deal.

Cards Release Johnson

The St. Louis Cardinals released Billy Johnson outright and Milwaukee sent pitcher Murray Wall to Toledo of the American Association.

In the American League, Philadelphia released infielder Don Kolloway and sent pitcher John Mackinson to Ottawa of the International League.

The Boston Red Sox sent pitchers Ben Flowers and Ken Holcombe back to the minors.

Softball

The Gladstone Bungalow softball team will practice tonight at 6:45 at the Gladstone lighted field. All players interested in trying out for the team are invited to attend the session.

Writers Pick Champ, Boxers Like Walcott

CHICAGO (AP)—While sports writers went overboard, 41 out of 43, picking Rocky Marciano to defeat Jersey Joe Walcott Friday, outstanding fighters of today and yesterday voted 11-6 for Walcott.

Those on Marciano's side—Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis, Sammy Mandell, Dan Bucceroni, Willie Pep and Ezzard Charles.

Those for Walcott—Jim Braddock, Chuck Davey, Kid Gavilan, Bill Tate, Ray Robinson, Jimmy Carter, Gil Turner, Joe Maxim, Archie Moore, Bob Satterfield and Rocky Castellani.

Sport Shorties

Sammy Casanato of the Syracuse Warriors was the first American Hockey League defenseman to score three goals in one game this season.

Curly Lambeau, head coach of the Washington Redskins in the NFL, spends the off-season at his chicken ranch in Thousand Oaks, Calif.

The horse with the most unusual marking at Hialeah this season was the two-year-old colt, Loyal Sir. The bay colt has a silver tail.

The Tri County baseball league resumes action Sunday with the four undefeated teams making home stands against the four teams which lost last week's openers.

Bark River, which showed strength in a 24-8 walk-away against Daggett, faces newcomer Carney-Nadeau in a home stand. Manager Joe Rademacher will be back on the hill for the Barks.

In other Sunday games Foster City is host to Perronville, Wallace host to Hermansville and Powers entertains Daggett. Perronville and Hermansville lost by single runs in the 1953 openers last Sunday.

Carney Drops Out Of Regional Track Meet

Withdrawal of Carney from the list of Class D-E schools which will compete here in the regional track and field meet Saturday drops the entry list to 11 schools. Carney is a 10th grade school and does not compete in track during the regular season.

Trackmen in Classes B and D-E will be competing for the right to enter the finals at Marquette on May 23.

LITTLE BIGGER PRACTICE

The Delta Hardware Little Bigger League baseball team will practice this evening at 6 at Royce Park. Players must attend the practice session to sign contracts, Manager Bob Holmes stated.

Briggs Says Tigers Are In Mood For Trading

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sure, the Detroit Tigers are in the trade mart, says President Walter P. (Spike) Briggs, but not just for a change of faces.

"We'll talk trade with anyone who offers us anything more than a bunch of broken bats," Briggs told a reporter in Washington last night before the club moved into Philadelphia to open a three-game series tonight.

The second and final game of the series there were rained out.

"Sure," said Briggs, "we want to help the club. But we aren't making any trades just to be trading."

So far, he added, no other club has offered his founding club any players who would do it any good. Unless or until something helpful is offered, he said, the Tigers will stand pat with the youthful roster it has now.

Briggs, who resigned from active management of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. Monday to devote more time to baseball, joined the club in Washington. He plans to stay here for a day or two and then return to Detroit.

One thing he plans to do here is to go over the player list with Manager Freddie Hutchinson with an eye to optioning a couple of young players. The Tigers will be carrying 28 players when pitcher Ray Herbert rejoins them here Friday but the club still will be within the American League player limit.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Marv Grissom, Boston Red Sox, limited the Chicago White Sox to four hits in winning, 3-0. Batting—Eddie Joost, Philadelphia Athletics, homered in the eighth inning to give the A's a 2-1 victory over St. Louis.

Gordon Soltow of the San Francisco 49ers and scoring champion of the NFL, was an underwater demolition expert during World War II.

Iowa Ball Team Takes To Road

CHICAGO (AP)—League-leading Iowa, winner of five of its six games, takes to the road this week end to meet second-division clubs in the Big Ten baseball race.

The Hawkeyes play at Wisconsin 3-2 Friday and have a Saturday doubleheader at Northwestern 2-3.

Illinois and Ohio State, each with 7-2 records, will tangle in a pivotal three-game series at Illinois. A single game Friday will be followed by a doubleheader Saturday.

Ohio State leads the Big Ten in hitting with .302, followed by Michigan 6-3 with .301 and Iowa with .271. Iowa tops team fielding with .982.

The standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Iowa	5	1	.833
Illinois	7	2	.778
Ohio State	7	2	.778
Michigan	6	3	.667
Minnesota	4	2	.667
Wisconsin	3	2	.600
Northwestern	2	3	.400
Michigan State	3	6	.333
Indiana	0	8	.000
Purdue	0	8	.000

Friday's games—Minnesota at Northwestern, Michigan at Purdue, Michigan State at Indiana, Iowa at Wisconsin, Ohio State at Illinois.

Saturday doubleheaders—Ohio State at Illinois, Iowa at Northwestern, Michigan at Indiana, Minnesota at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Purdue.

Four of the five starters on the Notre Dame basketball team and coach Johnny Jordan hail from Chicago.

Gene Shields, student manager of the TCU football team last year, plays No. 1 on the Frog foot team. The lowest average ever to win the batting title in the American League was .306 by Elmer Flick of Cleveland in 1905.

Milwaukee Team Moves To Second Place

Shift Is Good For Braves

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

It's about time the travel agents of the nation paid a special tribute to the Milwaukee Braves. Where could they find a better example of the benefits to be obtained by a change of scenery?

The 1,000-mile westward shift from Boston to Milwaukee has worked wonders for the once-downtrodden ball club that finished a dismal seventh in the National League last year.

A quick glance at today's standings shows the Braves only half a game out of first place. They have seven more games on their present home stand at their new five million dollar stadium, where they have won seven out of eight.

Fans Pile In

The fans are clamoring at the gates. In seven home dates the club has drawn 172,781 cash customers. Last year's total attendance in Boston was 281,778.

Yesterday, with the thermometer shivering at 39 degrees, 9,043 fans turned out to watch their Braves smother the New York Giants, 11-1.

Manager Charlie Grimm has been fortunate to come up with a trio of red-hot newcomers in pitchers Bob Buhl and Don Liddle and outfielder Bill Bruton. But his old Boston lineup has become revitalized as well.

The Braves had only one pitcher—Ernie Johnson—who finished last year with an average as high as .500. Yet nine of their 13 victories this season have been registered by last year's mound staff.

Great Relief Record

Lou Burdette, yesterday's winner, has shown remarkable improvement. Working as a long-distance relief man, Burdette has pitched 17 1-3 innings in three games, has a 2-0 record and a 2.12 earned run average.

He came in at the start of the third inning against the Giants after starter Johnny Antonelli had injured a finger on his pitching hand and stopped New York on four hits. In his previous appearance he relieved Antonelli with two out in the first inning at Brooklyn and went the rest of the way to beat the Dodgers handily, something the Braves did only three times last year.

Milwaukee moved into second place over Brooklyn, which was frozen out of its scheduled game at Chicago. Rain and wet grounds also caused the postponement of the other two National League contests—Pittsburgh at Cincinnati and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

Indians Bow Again

In the American League the New York Yankees won their third straight over Cleveland, 9-4, dropping the Indians into third place. Boston whipped Chicago, 3-0, and Philadelphia broke its seven-game losing streak at the expense of the St. Louis Browns, 2-1. A night game at Washington between the Senators and the Detroit Tigers was rained out.

Shut out on one hit the previous night, Cleveland came up with four runs in the first four innings against the Yankees yesterday. Then its pitching folded and by the end of seven the Yanks were ahead to stay. Mike Garcia was the loser against Eddie Lopat.

Mary Grissom handcuffed the White Sox on four hits for Boston. Despite the loss Chicago moved over Cleveland into second place.

An eighth-inning home run by Eddie Seaver provided the victory margin for the Athletics over the Browns.

Marciano And Walcott Rest On Eve Of Battle

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott planned to spend much of today reading his Bible while Rocky Marciano cat-napped on the day before their heavyweight championship bout in Chicago Stadium.

Officials of the sponsoring International Boxing Club were sweating it out a hoped-for ticket sale of $500,000 and needed to dispose of about $125,000 before fight time Friday to make it. Some 5,000 seats at the $50 top and 1,900 at $30 still lacked buyers.

The second meeting of Walcott boxing's most famous antique, and champion Marciano, will be televised over NBC with Chicago and Milwaukee blacked out. It will be broadcast on the ABC network. Fight time is 9 p. m. (EST).

Joe Will Get More

Marciano will receive a straight 30 per cent of the gate, the $300,000 for TV and radio rights and royalties accruing from third-dimensional films. Walcott has set for an additional 30 per cent of the movie receipts. Unless there is a complete sellout he will get more than the champion.

It is the general opinion that Jersey Joe has his greatest fight last September in Philadelphia when he knocked down Marciano in the first round and was well ahead on points until the Brockton blaster chilled him with a right in the 13th to win the heavyweight crown.

Most of the experts don't see how the 39-year-old pappy guy, entering his eighth title scrap and his sixth as a challenger, can be that good again. Odds-makers back this up by making 28-year-old Marciano a 3-1 favorite.

Being an underdog is nothing new to Walcott, father of six children who has been in the ring 23 years.

"God willing, I will be the first heavyweight champion ever to regain his title," Joe says. Ringbirds say that his only hope of winning is to last the full 15 rounds, depending on his much better boxing finesse to pile up decisive points. But it is highly questionable if he can evade the rugged, durable and younger Marciano for that long.

Walcott knocked him down but could not knock him out eight months ago. Rocky still has the same granite jaw. The short-armed powerful champion also has that same vicious right hand capable of scoring a kayo with one blow.

Walcott has spent much time sharpening up a left jab. The target for it will be Marciano's nose, untested by a punch since a sparate made it bleed enough to cause a five weeks postponement of the bout.

Third baseman Alton Miller, rookie of the year in the Pony league in 1952, was employed as a meat packer in his home town of Oklahoma City during the winter months.

Michigan State Cage Prospects Brighter

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State should be among the front-runners in the Big Ten basketball race next season according to indications from the spring workouts, ending this weekend.

MSC wasn't figured to have much for the 1952-53 season but managed to wind up in a tie for third place.

Coach Pete Newell had a young squad last season and so has most of his talent returning. And some very promising newcomers have been getting a lot of attention during the three weeks of spring drill.

Even six months in advance, you could almost figure on the starting lineup.

Al Ferrari, the high scorer this past season, should go at forward, teamed with a new-comer, Julius McCoy of Farrell, Pa.

McCoy, six foot one inch tall, was all-state as a Pennsylvania high school player and lived up to the advance rave notices this spring. He's almost certain to break into the starting lineup as a sophomore.

Bob Armstrong, the six foot six inch from Holland, will be back at center.

Rickey Ayala, the five foot five inch play-maker from Brooklyn, N. Y., believed to be the smallest regular in the conference, will be back at guard.

30 Players Out
Keith Stackhouse, senior from Plymouth, Ind., probably will be teamed with Ayala at guard. Stackhouse was a forward last year, but, as an experiment, he was tested at guard this spring.

He showed a good outside push shot, valuable in a guard, and the switch may remain permanent. About 26 of 30 players were out during the three weeks. They were divided into four teams and played a round-robin series of games with the personnel on the teams being shifted every week.

Free play was emphasized rather than the usual pattern play to develop speed and to give the players a chance to show their initiative and ability.

School Must Borrow $10,000

The Manistique Board of Education will find it necessary to borrow $10,000 to meet teachers' salaries due in June, it was disclosed at a regular meeting of the board Tuesday night.

The board president and secretary were authorized by resolution to negotiate the loan.

The bid of R. D. Curley to install boiler flues at Lincoln school was accepted by the board. His quotation was $45. Other bidders were Pearson Boiler and Manufacturing Company, Escanaba, and Hoholik's Plumbing and Heating, Manistique.

Permission was granted the City Recreation Commission to attach a new fence extending north along N. Maple Ave. to the Hall stadium fence, and also to install a gate in the north end of the stadium fencing.

The new fence along Maple Ave. will separate a new softball field in Central Park from the highway. Gate in the stadium fence will permit the retrieving of balls batted into the stadium.

The board also passed a resolution granting permission to the Lakehead Pipeline Company to cross a corner of Boy Scout property at Indian River. The property is held in trusteeship by the public schools.

A. F. Hall, reporting on the 1953-54 teacher situation, told the board that another teacher, Ted Corombos, had not signed a contract, bringing to eight the number of instructors who will not be back next year. Corombos is shop teacher.

Two of the vacancies have been filled, the superintendent said. Rauli Aho of Rumpley, has been engaged to teach biology, succeeding George Schrandt, and William Ellsworth, of Marquette, has been hired to succeed John Tremain as grade teacher.

Auxiliaries Will Provide Trained Church Workers

Women's auxiliaries of the Episcopal diocese of Northern Michigan will assist in providing a worker trained in Christian education for the churches of the diocese, it is reported by George Drew, lay minister of St. Alban's Episcopal Church here.

Decision to furnish this service was made at the 58th annual convention of the auxiliaries recently in Marquette.

Principal speaker at the convention was Her Royal Highness Ileana, exiled princess of Romania.

Connecticut City Remembers Its Dead

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—This city is perhaps the only place in the country which annually recalls the battle of Seicheprey, the first major land engagement involving United States troops in World War I.

Seven platoons in a machine gun battalion of the 102nd (Yankee) division, consisting chiefly of New Haven men, were surrounded by Germans near Seicheprey, France. A counter-attack rescued them after 80 had been killed, 150 taken prisoners and 400 wounded. Each year, on the anniversary of the battle, city officials take part in a ceremony on New Haven green.

$665 In Bag

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Conry, a 35-year-old elevator operator, found a paper bag filled with $665 in cash in his child's baby carriage. The carriage had been left in an apartment house hallway.

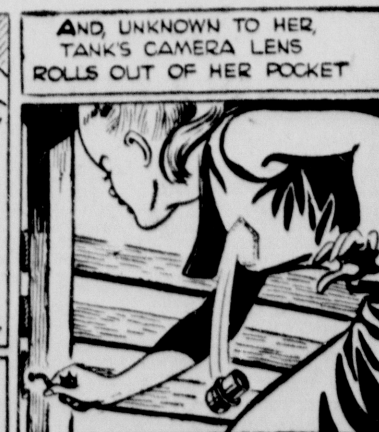

Police were trying to trace the owner.

India Too Slow For Hitchhiking

By SELIG S. HARRISON
NEW DELHI (AP)—An ex-GI thumbing his way back home from Korea has advice for globetrotters—don't try to hitchhike across India.

"Everybody picks you up, but how fast can you travel on ox carts?" asks ex-Cpl. Lee Gotzlinger, 24, of Youngstown, O.

"You stand for six hours along a road 10 feet wide, with monkeys for company, but not even any cows to ride. You get tired of bananas, oranges and sugarcane juice."

Led Astray By Map
Gotzlinger, in an interview, said he and ex-Pvt. Alfred Evans of Beechhurst, N. Y., got special permission from Gen. Mark Clark to return to the U. S. the long way. They hopped a freighter at Kobe, Japan, Feb. 28, and reached Calcutta a month later after one free air passage and two cut-rate hops.

They separated in Calcutta. Evans sped through Delhi weeks ahead of Gotzlinger, who looked over Calcutta and the holy city of Benares among other Indian centers, en route to the capital.

Gotzlinger, who left Japan with $830 in his pocket and had $620 when he reached Delhi, said a battered map of India showing the "Grand Trunk Highway" from Calcutta all the way to mountainous Kashmir led him astray.

He had visions of "maharajahs riding along by the dozen to Kashmir." He came down to earth when he got off a bus on the outskirts of Calcutta and found the beginning of the Grand Trunk only a lane filled with cattle.

He finally wangled a ride with a police car escorting the prime minister of West Bengal state on an inspection tour. That took him to a village where he spent his first night on a straw cot, "just like the Army."

Hitchhiking and sightseeing from Calcutta to Delhi, Gotzlinger resorted to trains and buses twice. The first time came when he discovered the Grand Trunk stopped dead at a river bank.

Back By August
At the famed Taj Mahal, at Agra, he went to the edge of the Jumna River behind the marbled monument to see if turtles really fed on dead human bodies "as it says in 'Lives of the Bengal Lancers.'"

"There were turtles, but no corpses," he reported.

After a week in Delhi, Gotzlinger started off westward in pursuit of Evans, via the Middle East and Europe. In Vienna he will visit his birthplace. He is a naturalized U. S. citizen.

Gotzlinger plans to be back in the United States by August to enroll at the Ohio State University Law School.

GI Locomotive Has Adjustable Wheels

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—The U. S. Army has a diesel-electric type of locomotive equipped to run on foreign as well as domestic-sized tracks. The American Locomotive and General Electric companies will have delivered 83 of these units before the end of the year—to undisclosed Army-designated points.

The wheels can be adjusted on the axles to fit the extra-wide tracks found on many railroads overseas. In addition, the new type of locomotive can operate in temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero.

For wide tracks the change is made by adjustment of the wheels in different positions on the axles.

Postman Is Hero

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—This postman delivered the goods with a block-long sprint.

Covering his route up a steep curving street yesterday, Sam Dallen saw a driverless delivery truck roll from its parking spot.

Realizing it could plow across lawns where small children were at play, Dallen put down his mail sack and gave chase. Catching up with the truck he reached in through a window and put on the brakes. Then he returned to his route.

Talks To Molotov

MOSCOW—(AP)—U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen talked for 20 minutes Tuesday with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov about "certain concrete questions pending between the United States and the Soviet Union." It was Bohlen's second call on the foreign minister since the ambassador's arrival here in mid-April.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

One In 22 Works For Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau says some 7,105,000 persons were on federal state or local government payrolls when it took a survey last October—that is, one out of every 22 persons in the United States.

The largest number of government employees was the group working for local governments, including cities, counties, school districts. That total here was 3,418,000.

Next came the federal government civilian payroll totalling 2,583,000. The states employed 1,103,000.

The Census Bureau said more than one-fourth of all public employees are teachers or other educational employees. The next biggest group, comprising a fifth of public employment, are civilian employees of federal defense agencies.

National defense and the postal service account for 71 per cent of all federal employment.

English Art Club Can't Get Any Nudes

PLYMOUTH, Eng. (AP)—The local art club has reluctantly decided to dry its paint brushes and put away its palettes and easels—local girls are too shy to pose for it in the nude.

"We've advertised and made personal approaches—offering of course the union rate of five shillings (70 cents) an hour," sadly complained Robert Huck, post office worker who was to have taught the 20 member class that includes civil servants and middle-aged housewives.

"But professional models are impossible to get here, and all the girls I asked personally were horrified and said everyone would know them."

An alternative suggestion that the class should forget about real life and concentrate on still life subjects was turned down—the club members said they could do that sort of thing at home.

Communist Prisoner Strangled On Kojé

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—The United Nations Prisoner of War Command reported that one Communist prisoner was strangled and another drowned in camps on Kojé Island off Southern Korea.

The command said the prisoner who died of strangulation May 9 was "an apparent victim of murder" by fellow POWs.

Three days later the body of another prisoner was found in a well, but officials said it was not known whether the death was "accidental, murder or suicide."

Jet Hits Apartment

BIELEFELD, Germany (AP)—A jet plane crashed into an apartment house here and exploded, injuring three persons and setting fires which left 12 families homeless. The plane was burned beyond recognition, but a Dutch royal air force jet based at Eindhoven had been reported missing.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Budget-Cutting Runs Into Snag

WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressional budget-cutting campaign struck a snag when the House appropriations committee reported it could trim only 3½ per cent from the 1954 funds of the Treasury and Postoffice Departments.

This was the smallest percentage reduction made by the committee on any appropriation bill sent to the House floor this year. Indication were the house wouldn't cut much deeper when the bill is considered tomorrow.

As recommended by the committee, the $3,444,145,000 bill would appropriate $611,895,000 to the Treasury Department and $2,832,250,000 to the Postoffice Department for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $127,983,000 less than former President Truman requested in his January budget message, $53,433,000 of the cut being in funds for the Treasury and $74,550,000 in those for the Postoffice. It is only $5,425,000 less than Congress voted the two departments for the present fiscal year.

The committee gave no comparison of its cuts with revised budget requests of the Eisenhower administration.

Britain Sends Paris Minister To Moscow

LONDON (AP)—W. G. Hayter, British minister in Paris and a former first secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, has been named ambassador to Moscow. He will succeed Sir Alvary Gascoigne, who reaches the retirement age of 60 in August.

A former under secretary of state for foreign affairs, Hayter was secretary at the Moscow Embassy from 1934 to 1937. He also was a member of the British Embassy staff in China before going to Washington in 1940.

INFLATION HITS HUNTERS
ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta. (AP)—Ranchers say cougars and timber wolves are becoming plentiful in the Rocky Mountain foothills because the bounty of $15 is not high enough to persuade many hunters to go after them.

The Treasury Department was $138,032,658 for enforcement of the internal revenue laws. This is the full amount requested by Truman.

More than half the cut in Treasury funds was in the allotment for the Coast Guard. The committee cut the Coast Guard appropriation from $246,200,000 to $211,850,000. It said one consequence of its action would be to reduce Coast Guard military personnel from 34,836 to 33,677.

Accused Banker Works In Shop

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—A former bank president who was implicated in a $478,000 swindle of his bank now is working as a $60-a-week lathe operator for a machine tool company.

"It's temporary," said William H. Abel who once earned $13,500 a year. "When I get cleared, I expect to go back to banking—that's my business."

Abel's trial last week ended in a hung jury. He is free in $40,000 bond pending a decision by the Nassau County district attorney whether to try him again.

Abel was accused of helping a woman contractor get false loans from the Central National Bank here. The woman, Mrs. Lillian Robinson, 44, pleaded guilty to forgery and conspiracy and is awaiting sentence. Abel, who is 45, shot himself when her crime was exposed, but recovered.

Abel said his father was a machinist and that he has always been handy with tools. He said he began working part time at the Royal Products Corp., last winter because he wanted "to keep busy."
